Turkish Quake Leaves 58 Dead, Hundreds Hurt

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — At least 58 persons were killed and hundreds injured this morning in a powerful earthquake that struck the town of Burdur and surrounding villages in southern Turkey.

The governor of Burdur Province, Esref Ayhan, said 18 deaths had been confirmed in Burdur and 20 each in two nearby villages.

He said 70 per cent of the buildings in Burdur, a town of 30,000 people, had been destroyed. Ayhan also had reports of entire villages collapsing in outlying areas which had not been contacted yet.

Instanbul's Kandilli Observatory registered the quake at 8 on the Richter scale signifying it was of great violence. The Los Angeles quake in February registered between 6 and 6.5.

Housing Minister Sellahattin Baburoglu dispatched relief supplies and a mobile hospital to the city 225 miles southwest of Ankara.

Ayhan said the local hospitals were cleared of noncritical patients and were rapidly filling with injured from the quake.

Troops were sent to dig for victims in stricken villages.

The housing minister said he and the ministers of interior and village affairs were flying to the earthquake area.

Turkey has been struck by killer earthquakes each year since 1906. In March 1970, a quake killed 1,089 persons and destroyed the town of Gediz in western Turkey.

The quakes take place along the Anatolian Fault, that starts around Burdur, ranges north along the Aegean coast and east along the Black Sea, then plunges south again in the eastern mountains.

Ohio Assembly Considers Flood Of Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In what appears to be a lull before the budget bill storm, the 109th General Assembly will "catch its breath" today with votes on a number of non-controversial items.

The Senate will act on a measure tightening regulations for sale and use of explosives.

Sponsored by Sen. Paul Matia, R-25, Lakewood, the bill would prohibit the marketing of any "dangerous explosives" to anyone not possessing either a federal explosives user permit, or one issued by the state fire marshal or a local chief law enforcement officer.

In addition to a permit, an intended explosives user must also file an affidavit swearing he is not a fugitive, under indictment for or convicted of a felony, or a drug addict.

Illegal sales carry a fine of up to $1,000, one year in prison, or both.

Maximum penalties for illegal use of dangerous explosives — defined as any military or commercial high explosive compounds, compositions and blasting agents — are $500 and one year in jail.

The Senate will also consider bills to reduce the cost of license plates for vehicles used for medical purposes or by charitable organizations, and to bring Blue Cross contracts with medical facilities under continuing review by the state Superintendent of Insurance.

In the House, votes are slated on measures that would:

— Provide health insurance and other fringe benefits for employees of county general and tuberculosis hospitals.

— Name public recreation areas at Kirwan Reservoir near Youngstown Kirwan State Park. Meanwhile, House committees continue to give undivided attention to Gov. John Gilligan's $9.1 billion budget, and some of its alternatives.

The Ways and Means Committee has again scheduled a working session on the tax portion of the governor's budget that backers say will bring the state an additional $1.6 billion in revenues. The bulk of the new money will come from corporate and personal income taxes.

The standing Committee on Health, Education and Welfare will resume deliberations on the education portion of the budget.

Gilligan has said House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, has promised a vote on a tax package next week.

On Tuesday, the Senate passed 30-0 a bill empowering local governments to join to finance, construct and operate water resource projects, especially sewage treatment facilities.

The legislation, which now goes to the House, was authored by Sen. Ralph Regula, R-29 Navarre, who characterized the

MIGs Attack American Plane In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — Striking in two waves, U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jets destroyed 13 anti-aircraft guns around the Mu Gia pass in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said the Phantoms attacked the anti-aircraft sites after receiving fire from North Vietnamese guns while over Laos. None of the U.S. planes was damaged, the command said.

The command in a delayed report said the strikes took place Monday afternoon, a day after a North Vietnamese MIG21 jet attacked a small American observation plane over the Plain of Jars in northern Laos.

A command spokesman, Maj. Charles Johnson, said the strikes Monday were against anti-aircraft positions 75 miles north of the demilitarized zone and two miles inside North Vietnam from the Laotian border.

The 13 guns knocked out were the most reported destroyed in one day by U.S. pilots since the halt in bombing of the North Nov. 1, 1968.

The U.S. Command said three 57mm guns were knocked out in the first strike—an attack by two Phantoms at about 6 p.m. Monday.

About 45 minutes later, three more Phantoms attacked the cluster of gun positions around the Mu Gia pass and destroyed five 57mm guns and five 37mm guns, the command said.

The U.S. Command described the Phantom attacks as "protective reaction" strikes, the 38th so far this year against North Vietnamese positions that either fire on U.S. planes or threaten to fire. The Phantoms were flying interdiction missions over Laos when they received fire from 85mm guns, the command said.

"Upon attacking the gun positions," the command said, "they (Phantoms) were fired upon by a combination of 37mm and 57mm anti-aircraft artillery fire."

There was no claim by the command of knocking out the larger 85mm guns or any mention of missiles fired.

With the attack against the U.S. observation plane, North Vietnamese MIGs extended their operation to the Plain of Jars to harass U.S. planes supporting Laotian government forces.

Marines Join Race For Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maybe "Today's Army wants to join you," but as far as the Marines are concerned, "nobody's joining them; they'll be joining us."

The Army may have gotten the opening edge in the recruiting race with its $10.6 million experimental advertising campaign which began in March. But now the Marines have called in Madison Avenue to escalate the interservice rivalry with a campaign of their own which takes a few pot shots at the Army's pitch of a soft life and duty in Europe.

The Marines are emphasizing a small, tough elite force with no promises of the good life.

"We're a tough club to join, a tough team to make," says Corps commandant Gen. Leonard F. Chapman. "And that's exactly the way we're going to keep it."

Marines will be trained the way they've always been trained, he says. "No compromises, no short cuts, no promises except one—they'll be Marines..." And as for the Army's new recruiting slogan proclaimed in newspapers, radio and television ads—"Today's Army Wants To Join You"—Chapman says Marine recruits will know "nobody's joining them, they'll be joining us."

U.S. Troop Cuts Sought By Mansfield

GOP Quickly Moves To Block Draft Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration supporters have moved quickly to head off Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's bid to force a 50-per cent reduction in U.S. troop strength in Europe.

Within hours after the Montana senator introduced his proposal Tuesday as an amendment to draft-extension legislation, two Republicans offered substitutes and a third said approval of Mansfield's rider would prompt President Nixon to veto the bill.

There was no indication when a vote might come on the Mansfield amendment, expected to prolong what already looks like a marathon debate. Critics of the Vietnam war plan to offer the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for U.S. troops in Indochina after Dec. 31.

Mansfield said the 300,000-man U.S. force in Europe is "inflated and musclebound" and said his measure to bar funds for more than 150,000 U.S. troops after Dec. 31 "will result in a leaner, more mobile and more efficient combat force."

The amendment was countered promptly by a substitute offered by Sen. Charles McMathias Jr., R-Md., endorsing President Nixon's declared intention "to maintain the necessary level of United States Armed forces in Europe."

Shortly afterwards, Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., calling Mansfield's amendment "unduly restrictive," suggested language placing Congress on record favoring a U.S. troop reduction but leaving implementation up to the President.

Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said of the Mansfield measure: "If this passed and became a law, I think the President would have to veto it."

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee and manager of the draft bill, called Mansfield's proposal "a meat-ax method" that would cause serious harm to U.S. allies in Europe.

Hodgson Asks For Delay In Minimum Wage Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress today to stretch out by a year Democratic-proposed minimum wage increases to prevent more inflation and unemployment.

Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson told the House labor subcommittee the administration supports the proposal to hike the $1.60 wage floor to $1.80 next Jan. 1 but cannot support the second-step increase to $2 a year later.

"Quite simply, we believe this is too large an increase over that period," he said in prepared testimony. "We propose instead that the second step of the increase be delayed one year to 1974."

"A 25 per cent increase seems too substantial a cost increase to impose in a 12-month period without having serious effects upon both employment and inflation."

Hodgson also: —Opposed the Democratic proposal to extend minimum wage coverage to state and local employees, saying it would "impinge unduly upon the federal system of our nation."

—Recommended a cut-rate wage floor of $1.60 an hour for students under 20 and anyone under 18, to promote youthful employment.

—Asked moderated minimum-wage increases for farm workers and employees in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

He said increasing the overall hourly wage floor to $2 in 1973 would have a bad effect on inflation and unemployment.

"In order to ameliorate the effects of this wage increase, many employers affected could well adopt ways of producing their product or service that would reduce the number of persons employed," he said.

"Some small businesses might give up altogether. Others might be deterred from starting up."

"One major concern here is that increasing the minimum wage too rapidly will in turn prompt increases in wages of those already earning above $2—a large majority of all wage-earners. Price increases following from this shift in the wage structure would erode the real value of the higher minimum thus frustrating our efforts to help the low wage earners."

LBJ Says Russians Talked Of Mideast War Intervention

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin used the hot line during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war to warn that Moscow was prepared to take military action if necessary.

The warning came on the morning of June 10 after the forces of Soviet-supported President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and other Arab armies had suffered extensive defeats.

Johnson said he responded by ordering the U.S. 6th Fleet closer to the Syrian coast as a "signal that the United States of America and its government was prepared for the situation that would confront it if it were confronted."

"This was a very tense moment," Johnson recalled during an interview filmed in Austin, Tex., for the CBS-TV "60 Minutes" program shown Tuesday night. The tension eased later the same day when a cease-fire was reached.

The Kosygin message was not the first time the hot line was used during the 1967 war. Qualified U.S. officials reported at the time that Kosygin first messaged Johnson on June 5, the morning the fighting broke out.

Kosygin suggested on June 5 that the United States and the Soviet Union work together to ensure peace and said the Soviet Union did not want war in the Middle East, according to reports at the time.

Johnson said in the television interview that he received word on the morning of the 10th "that Mr. Kosygin desires the President to come to the equipment."

In that message, "Kosygin said that they had reached a very crucial decision, that they were prepared to do what was necessary including using the military," Johnson recalled.

"He (Kosygin) mentioned the words 'grave catastrophe.' He mentioned the words 'independent decision.' He mentioned the word 'military.'" Johnson said.

New Challenge To Death Penalty Hurdled At Supreme Court

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund has asked the Supreme Court to block legal executions in the United States by considering at least one new legal attack on capital punishment.

Speaking for 27 of the 648 condemned prisoners the fund urged the court to schedule a hearing in any of the death cases or direct a lower court to take evidence on the contention that capital punishment itself is unconstitutional.

In a brief filed late Tuesday, the fund said the situation is "perilous" since the court has ruled out two procedural arguments that had caused a nationwide halt in executions since 1967.

Stays of execution in many of the 648 cases will now be dissolved, the fund said, and "executions are imminent." Additionally, the brief said, many of the prisoners do not have lawyers to help them try to avert execution.

The 26 men and one girl, teen-ager Marie Hill of Rocky Mount, N.C., are on death row in eight states, Alabama, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina and Virginia.

In all there are 641 male prisoners and 7 females under death sentence in 33 states. About 135 have appeals pending in the court.

Earlier Tuesday William A. Ralph, a 37-year-old delivery man who won a reprieve last December, appealed to the court in a case that may bring about a ruling on use of the death penalty for convicted rapists.

Ralph, convicted in 1961 of an attack on a Kensington, Md., woman, said he was entitled to a new trial because a confession used as evidence against him was not voluntary. The state of Maryland is now expected to file a cross-appeal, challenging the finding by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., that upset Ralph's death sentence.

The issue in this case is whether the Constitution prohibits the death penalty when a rape victim's life was neither "taken nor endangered."

There are 79 convicted rapists facing execution in 10 states. The fund told the justices "it is surely imperative that no human life be extinguished until the fundamental questions that Ralph raises under the 8th Amendment are authoritatively resolved by this court."

The court last week decided state legislatures are not required to set standards to guide juries choosing between life and death. Also, the court held in the 6-3 ruling, capital trials need not be separated so that there is a distinct sentencing phase.

This removed the legal roadblock of hundreds of executions. However, none has been carried out so far.

The fund suggested a variety of legal arguments the court could consider. The more appropriate course, the lawyers said, was for the justices to direct a lower court to develop an "illuminating" record on the ultimate legal approach to capital punishment.

See Large Post Office Worker Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional postal affairs sources say 2,000 to 3,000 employees, mostly in management jobs, will be laid off by a new U.S. Postal Service consolidation.

Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount was quoted as giving those figures to several House and Senate Post Office Committee members in private briefings on the plan to consolidate 15 regional mail management offices into 5.

One postal committee source said he understood from U.S. Postal Service staff members that the layoff would be as high as 3,500 employees.

Blount was quoted as saying excess management people would be offered early retirement—age 50 was mentioned—in some cases with six months' severance pay.

He was quoted as saying no postal union members would be involved in the layoff.

The streamlined Postal Service management structure, to be formally announced later in the day, would consolidate the 15 present regional offices into four sectional offices plus one for New York City.

Headquarters for the four sectional offices would be in Philadelphia, Memphis, Chicago and San Francisco.

Cancer Bill Under Study

Demos Shunt Own Plan Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee on the verge of endorsing a cancer-research bill sponsored by its chairman has backed off to call hearings on a new plan offered by President Nixon.

Nixon unveiled his plan Tuesday, and Democrats said their first impression was that it contained neither enough money nor enough administrative revision to get the job done.

Nevertheless, the Senate health subcommittee deferred approval of a bill proposed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to allow time for studying the Nixon measure.

Kennedy said the subcommittee will act quickly on one of the proposals, both of which are aimed at finding a cure for cancer.

The Nixon plan would keep cancer research under the National Institutes of Health where the Cancer Institute has been at work for years.

But the agency would report directly to him and have an independent budget including an extra $100 million above what is now provided. The President promised these funds in his State of the Union message.

The Kennedy bill, introduced Jan. 25, would take cancer research out of NIH and the Health, Education and Welfare Department, and put it under an organization with the sole purpose of fighting cancer.

The senator said this step is essential if the battle is to get the necessary push.

Kennedy proposes an extra $200 million in funds for the work in the next year, and $400 million in the following year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund has asked the Supreme Court to block legal executions in the United States by considering at least one new legal attack on capital punishment.

Speaking for 27 of the 648 condemned prisoners the fund urged the court to schedule a hearing in any of the death cases or direct a lower court to take evidence on the contention that capital punishment itself is unconstitutional.

In a brief filed late Tuesday, the fund said the situation is "perilous" since the court has ruled out two procedural arguments that had caused a nationwide halt in executions since 1967.

Stays of execution in many of the 648 cases will now be dissolved, the fund said, and "executions are imminent." Additionally, the brief said, many of the prisoners do not have lawyers to help them try to avert execution.

The 26 men and one girl, teen-ager Marie Hill of Rocky Mount, N.C., are on death row in eight states, Alabama, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina and Virginia.

In all there are 641 male prisoners and 7 females under death sentence in 33 states. About 135 have appeals pending in the court.

Earlier Tuesday William A. Ralph, a 37-year-old delivery man who won a reprieve last December, appealed to the court in a case that may bring about a ruling on use of the death penalty for convicted rapists.

Ralph, convicted in 1961 of an attack on a Kensington, Md., woman, said he was entitled to a new trial because a confession used as evidence against him was not voluntary. The state of Maryland is now expected to file a cross-appeal, challenging the finding by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., that upset Ralph's death sentence.

The issue in this case is whether the Constitution prohibits the death penalty when a rape victim's life was neither "taken nor endangered."

There are 79 convicted rapists facing execution in 10 states.

The fund told the justices "it is surely imperative that no human life be extinguished until the fundamental questions that Ralph raises under the 8th Amendment are authoritatively resolved by this court."

The court last week decided state legislatures are not required to set standards to guide juries choosing between life and death. Also, the court held in the 6-3 ruling, capital trials need not be separated so that there is a distinct sentencing phase.

This removed the legal roadblock of hundreds of executions. However, none has been carried out so far.

The fund suggested a variety of legal arguments the court could consider. The more appropriate course, the lawyers said, was for the justices to direct a lower court to develop an "illuminating" record on the ultimate legal approach to capital punishment.

This is the position that the 8th Amendment's prohibition on

Ervin Pushes Preventive Detention Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., urged the Justice Department today to put aside the "vain and false panacea of preventive detention" and to support legislation to secure speedy trials of federal criminal cases.

He said "The Justice Department has so far maintained a stolid silence" on a bill he introduced nearly a year ago. The measure, in general, would require federal criminal defendants to be brought to trial within 60 days.

Ervin has urged this as an alternative to preventive detention, under which a judge may order persons accused of certain crimes held for trial without bail for up to 60 days if he finds their release would endanger the community.

Preventive detention was included in a District of Columbia crime bill passed by Congress last year, but the Justice Department was unable to win passage of a bill to permit it in federal courts throughout the country.

Ervin said his bill now has 42 senators as sponsors and President Nixon and Chief Justice Warren E. Burger have spoken strongly in support of speedy criminal trials.

He quoted Nixon as telling the National Conference on the Judiciary a few weeks ago that "this is not an impossible goal," that "in criminal cases in Great Britain today, most accused persons are brought to trial within 60 days after arrest."

And he said Burger had predicted in an address to the American Bar Association the crime rate would be reduced sharply if criminal cases were tried within 60 days after indictment.

But Ervin said he is disturbed the Justice Department has not yet responded to a request he first made in September of last year for its views on his bill.

He criticized the Department's tactics in enforcing the District of Columbia's preventive detention law and what he termed a cloak of secrecy surrounding the proceedings.

"It was reprehensible, indeed ever to begin this experiment with the civil liberties of D.C. citizens," Ervin said. "It is unendurable to carry out the experimentation in secret. For now we have not only preventive detention but a return to the Star Chamber as well."

Medics Hear Canadian

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An address by Premier W. Ross Thatcher of the Canadian Province of Saskatchewan highlighted activities today at the Ohio State Medical Association convention.

Premier Thatcher, who ended a 20-year Socialist Party regime in the province when first elected premier in 1964, was to speak on "Socialism in Medicine."

A graduate of Queen's University at Kingston, Ontario, when he was 18, Premier Thatcher won a seat on Canada's Parliament at the age of 28 in 1945.

The medical convention runs through Friday. Thursday night delegates are expected to take a position on abortion laws by acting on two resolutions which take opposing positions on the controversial issue.

The annual premium is now $7,194. It provides full coverage on fire and lightning damage, $100 deductible on extended coverage and $2,500 deductible on vandalism and malicious mischief.

Jacobs noted that many school districts are not able to obtain insurance because of vandalism and student demonstrations.

Truck Hits Rail; Driver Injured

A 44-year-old Williamsport man was injured when his truck skidded into a guard rail 5:25 p.m. Tuesday on Route 22 about a mile west of Circleville.

Clinton W. Trapp suffered a bruised shoulder in the mishap and was referred to the doctor for treatment.

Trapp told Deputy Sheriff John Bost he was westbound on Route 22 and slid left of center when he attempted to stop for a slow moving vehicle ahead of him.

The fund contended the New Jersey and North Carolina supreme courts as well as the U.S. appeals court in Denver had misread the 1968 ruling and permitted death sentences to stand because only a small number of people against capital punishment were excluded from jury service.

Secondly, the fund said, all death sentences imposed by juries set up contrary to the 1968 ruling should be reversed even if the sentences were imposed prior to the decision.

Third, the fund argued, at least four condemned prisoners were entitled to have their death sentences reversed because they pleaded guilty rather than face "juries stacked in favor of the death penalty."

The court has never agreed to hear argument on the applicability of the 8th Amendment to capital punishment.

cruel and unusual punishments must be read in this age as forbidding the death penalty.

Other points raised for the 27 condemned prisoners included the scope of the 1968 ruling that opponents of capital punishment cannot be automatically excluded from juries, the use of the death penalty for rape and the allegation that Negroes stand a greater chance of being convicted for rape than white men.

Report Cambodian Coverup Of Angkor Wat Barrage

PHNOM PENH (AP) — The Cambodian army apparently plans no disciplinary action against a captain who ordered an artillery barrage that did severe damage to Angkor Wat, Cambodia's national treasure.

The huge 12th century temple was shelled three months ago, authoritative sources said, but the government kept the incident secret.

Angkor, the ancient Khmer capital in the northwest, was occupied by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers last June. Government forces were ordered not to attack for fear that fighting would damage the ruins, which include the temple of Angkor Wat and the adjacent Angkor Thom.

The shelling killed or wounded about 10 peasant refugees in a nearby pagoda and heavily damaged the south side of Angkor Wat.

Informed sources said the barrage was ordered by a battery commander without permission from higher authority. The sources reported the officer was transferred outside the area but was not punished, apparently because the high command believed that would hurt army morale.

Reports of the shelling came from travelers returning from Siem Reap, the town nearest Angkor. The reports later were confirmed by a government expert who saw photographs of the damage.

The sources reported: The 105mm howitzer barrage hit the south side of the main temple, destroying the third floor of the southern gate.

One shell smashed into the second-floor gallery and three more exploded in the gallery of history on the first floor, damaging a fresco depicting the story of the Khmer empire.

Seven rounds also hit the nearby pagoda where the refugees were living.

Leroy Diehl, Circleville, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of failure to provide.

Homer Certain, Circleville, appearing before court on a similar charge, asked that the court appoint a lawyer to represent him.

Fred Huff, Ashland, Ky., was placed on three years' probation. He was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Probation was granted when Huff agreed to make restitution of money illegally obtained from Bowling Stock Yards.

'Diploma Mill' At Columbus Draws Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Common Pleas Court was asked by Atty. Gen. William J. Brown Tuesday to stop the Ohio Christian College of Columbus from offering or awarding degrees or diplomas.

Charging the institution is "nothing more than a diploma mill," Brown said in his suit it is "ridiculous when a person can purchase a degree of his choosing merely by writing a check and going through some motions."

He said the college has operated without registering with the state.

The suit was requested by Frank Albanese, executive director of the State Board of School and College Registration.

Names in the suit are the college and four administrators, Alvin O. Langdon, Jerry Weiner, Leeta O. Langdon and Gene Thompson.

The Federal Trade Commission ruled recently that the college "misrepresented" its accreditation, the value and equivalence of the school's degree, credits and courses, and made other false claims.

Chamberlain says the union will strike at 6:00 a.m. local time Monday unless a settlement is worked out.

Expanded discretion by trustees of collective facilities in setting rates is also provided.

Also passed 32-0 was a bill increasing from 120 to 180 the number of days during which a gas tax refund application may be made to the state tax commissioner.

Eight bills were introduced in the upper chamber. Included was one, sponsored by Sen. Robert Stockdale, R-31 Kent, that would result in an immediate $1 per hour wage hike for most state employees.

Further, the bill would prohibit state wages from dropping below "prevailing" wage levels for equivalent work in the private sector.

The bill provides for an annual review of wage schedules by the state Department of Industrial Relations.

Introduced, too, was an administration bill to move jurisdiction for Ohio's 28-county Appalachia program from the Department of Urban Affairs to the Department of Development.

An aide to the governor said the shift was being sought to free the Department of Urban Affairs to deal just with urban problems.

"It was reprehensible, indeed, ever to begin this experiment with the civil liberties of D.C. citizens," Ervin said. "It is unendurable to carry out the experimentation in secret. For now we have not only preventive detention but a return to the Star Chamber as well."

Ervin said he is disturbed the Justice Department has not yet responded to a request he first made in September of last year for its views on his bill.

Other points raised for the 27 condemned prisoners included the scope of the 1968 ruling that opponents of capital punishment cannot be automatically excluded from juries, the use of the death penalty for rape and the allegation that Negroes stand a greater chance of being convicted for rape than white men.

The fund contended the New Jersey and North Carolina supreme courts as well as the U.S. appeals court in Denver had misread the 1968 ruling and permitted death sentences to stand because only a small number of people against capital punishment were excluded from jury service.

Secondly, the fund said, all death sentences imposed by juries set up contrary to the 1968 ruling should be reversed even if the sentences were imposed prior to the decision.

Third, the fund argued, at least four condemned prisoners were entitled to have their death sentences reversed because they pleaded guilty rather than face "juries stacked in favor of the death penalty."

The court has never agreed to hear argument on the applicability of the 8th Amendment to capital punishment.

Report Cambodian Coverup Of Angkor Wat Barrage

PHNOM PENH (AP) — The Cambodian army apparently plans no disciplinary action against a captain who ordered an artillery barrage that did severe damage to Angkor Wat.

Cambodia's national treasure, the huge 12th century temple was shelled three months ago, authoritative sources said, but the government kept the incident secret.

Angkor, the ancient Khmer capital in the northwest, was occupied by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers last June. Government forces were ordered not to attack for fear that fighting would damage the ruins, which include the temple of Angkor Wat and the adjacent Angkor Thom.

The shelling killed or wounded about 10 peasant refugees in a nearby pagoda and heavily damaged the south side of Angkor Wat.

Informed sources said the barrage was ordered by a battery commander without permission from higher authority. The sources reported the officer was transferred outside the area but was not punished, apparently because the high command believed that would hurt army morale.

Reports of the shelling came from travelers returning from Siem Reap, the town nearest Angkor. The reports later were confirmed by a government expert who saw photographs of the damage.

The sources reported: The 105mm howitzer barrage hit the south side of the main temple, destroying the third floor of the southern gate.

One shell smashed into the second-floor gallery and three more exploded in the gallery of history on the first floor, damaging a fresco depicting the story of the Khmer empire.

Seven rounds also hit the nearby pagoda where the refugees were living.

Leroy Diehl, Circleville, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of failure to provide.

Homer Certain, Circleville, appearing before court on a similar charge, asked that the court appoint a lawyer to represent him.

Fred Huff, Ashland, Ky., was placed on three years' probation. He was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Probation was granted when Huff agreed to make restitution of money illegally obtained from Bowling Stock Yards.

'Diploma Mill' To Continue Draws Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Common Pleas Court was asked by Atty. Gen. William J. Brown Tuesday to stop the Ohio Christian College of Columbus from offering or awarding degrees or diplomas.

Charging the institution is "nothing more than a diploma mill," Brown said in his suit is "ridiculous when a person can purchase a degree of his choosing merely by writing a check and going through some motions."

He said the college has operated without registering with the state.

The suit was requested by Frank Albanese, executive director of the State Board of School and College Registration.

Names in the suit are the college and four administrators, Alvin O. Langdon, Jerry Weiner, Leeta O. Langdon and Gene Thompson.

The Federal Trade Commission ruled recently that the college "misrepresented" its accreditation, the value and equivalence of the school's degree, credits and courses, and made other false claims.

During negotiations that have lasted 20 months, the union has held out for a 54 per cent increase over 36 months retroactive to the expiration date of the old contract, Jan. 1, 1970.

The railroads, however, have agreed to a recommendation from a presidential emergency board for a 42 per cent increase over 42 months.

Skilled signalmen currently earn $3.78 an hour.

The union can legally strike 12:01 a.m. Saturday when the cooling-off period instituted by President Nixon to avert a strike last March 5 ends.

Chamberlain says the union will strike at 6:00 a.m. local time Monday unless a settlement is worked out.

Cyclist Fined — Glen E. Picklesimer Jr., 20, Williamsport, was fined $25 and costs with $10 of the fine suspended by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb for operating a motorcycle when he was not properly licensed.

bill as "a realistic approach" to cheaper and more efficient treatment of industrial waste and sewage.

Expanded discretion by trustees of collect ve facilities in setting rates is also provided.

Also passed 32-0 was a bill increasing from 120 to 180 the number of days during which a gas tax refund application may be made to the state tax commission.

Eight bills were introduced in the upper chamber.

Included was one, sponsored by Sen. Robert Stockdale, R-31 Kent, that would result in an immediate $1 per hour wage hike for most state employees.

Further, the bill would prohibit state wages from dropping below "prevailing" wage levels for equivalent work in the private sector.

The bill provides for an annual review of wage schedules by the state Department of Industrial Relations.

Introduced, too, was an administration bill to move jurisdiction for Ohio's 28-county Appalachia program from the Department of Urban Affairs to the Department of Development.

An aide to the governor said the shift was being sought to free the Department of Urban Affairs to deal just with urban problems.

Miss Ohio To Entertain At Pageant

Grace Elaine Bird, Miss Ohio, will be a special guest at the Miss South Central Ohio Pageant May 29, in Chillicothe.

Tim Acton, Jaycee chairman for the pageant, said Miss Bird will sing the songs for the bathing suit and evening gown competition during the pageant, and will participate in the crowning of Miss South Central Ohio.

Miss Bird, 22, is majoring in music at Mount Union College, Alliance, and teaches high school and junior high music.

Prior to becoming Miss Ohio, she was Mount Union College May Day queen, Miss Northeastern Ohio and preliminary talent winner at the Miss Ohio Pageant.

She has also been senior concerto soloist with the Mount Union College orchestra, president of Mu Phi Epsilon and vice president of Alpha Lambda Delta, and student member of the Mount Union Faculty Evaluating committee for hiring faculty.

The Miss South Central Ohio Pageant, sponsored by Chillicothe Jaycees is an official preliminary contest to the Miss Ohio and Miss America pageants.

Two Circleville girls are among the nine entered in the pageant. They are Cindy Barnhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill Jr., 106 Park St., a freshman college student and Karlene Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Martin, 513 Garden Parkway. Karlene is a graduating senior of Circleville High School.

Clearing The Air

As with any controversy which boils up into a national frenzy, the subject of ecology finally is beginning to come back to earth. Despite some of the militant preachments, the public has come to realize the end of the world has not yet arrived, that the problems raised under the broad umbrella of ecology are not really insoluble, and that there may be some basic human reasons for not moving too fast in some directions.

Part of the reason for a calmer view is the realization that increasing action is being employed to care for the environment, and part is due to recognition that conditions may not be as bad as some had painted them.

There is, for example, the Bureau of Standards study which indicated the oxygen content of the earth's atmosphere is virtually unchanged over the last 60 years. And the estimate by a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers that if the proposed Alaska pipeline should damage the permafrost, the area involved could not be more than a fraction of 1 percent of all the permafrost.

Improved balance in thought and action is coming to the front.

Anti-Secrecy Crusade

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

After listening to Dr. Edward Teller, the father of the H-bomb, I can see why Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird wants to cut the cost of Vietnam. The money will be needed, not for poverty programs or big city rehabilitation, but for getting our defense-oriented technology back on the track to catch up with the Soviets, who will, in Dr. Teller's estimation, have achieved a lopsided military superiority by 1980, or even as soon as 1975.

In an interview Dr. Teller sounds desperate because he is fighting something in the atmosphere. We have a whole generation now growing up that is being conditioned to look upon technology as evil. Our two best scientific institutions, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Stanford, are under relentless attack for the help they have given the Pentagon in the past. M.I.T. says Dr. Teller, is now in the hands of its president, Dr. Jerome Wiesner, an "appeaser," as Teller describes him.

Wiesner's advice to President John F. Kennedy and former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara was to let the Soviets come to parity with the U.S. in nuclear strength, so that neither nation would dare to attack the other. Parity in ships, planes and missiles would be all very well, but, as Teller puts it, we are "not in an arms race in any classic sense." The important element in a nation's strength is its ability to come up with new inventions. And the Soviets, so Teller tells us, are turning out more and more technologically competent graduates at a time that the U.S. is shifting to a view of education that looks upon military application of basic scientific discoveries as just plain wicked.

Our own secrecy doctrine works against us: we do not even tell our own people what the Soviets are doing for fear that our sources of information might be compromised. The fear is misplaced, according to Teller, for the simple reason that Soviet intelligence is perfectly aware of what we know and how we have obtained it.

Our military establishment is treated to "secret" films showing the Soviet drive toward naval supremacy. But the "secrecy" is idiotic, for it helps to lull Americans — and their Congressmen — with the thought that our ballistic missile submarines have the edge on the enemy.

This may be true for the moment, but by mid-1974 the Soviet nuclear submarine fleet will equal ours. The Soviets already have thirteen advanced, nuclear-powered, ballistic missile submarines that are the equal of our Ethan Allen class Polaris submarine, and they will double that number within the year.

Dr. Teller is crusading for an end to secrecy about all developments, both the Soviets' and our own. Secrecy, he says, is not security, for it prevents cooperation between Western scientists and so cuts down on the full potentials of technology. We need to know what the French, the Japanese and the Germans know and vice versa. The French, for example, have very advanced development of lasers, which we should know about. But where there is secrecy, there is separation. And only by the abolition of secrecy will the American people come to realize that the U.S. is on its way to becoming an inferior military power. Once they realize it, they might stop bad-mouthing technology.

Where there is no secrecy, as in computers, the U.S. leads the world. But the point that Teller makes over and over again is that in nuclear technology, where secrecy is strictly adhered to, we are falling behind the Soviets in every way. Our "sufficiency" will not long remain sufficient unless the attitude toward military inventiveness changes. An "open" policy would encourage such a change. No SALT talk decisions can assure parity in military technological fecundity, which is something that comes out of an attitude and cannot be stifled if the atmosphere is right.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: The kind of cook that annoys me most is the kind that thinks you can improve the taste of anything by dumping a double handful of raisins in it at the last minute. There are some dishes — sauerkraut for one — which simply don't need raisins.

One of the best ways for a general to enjoy renown with posterity is to fight his winning battles only on sides that will look scenic on post cards later. It's a curious fact about the average man's knowledge of medicine: for everyone that can help you stop a nosebleed, there are at least 20 who can give you a positive cure for hiccups — or tell you how to get rid of warts.

A bridegroom thinks it's cute for his bride to pad around the kitchen barefoot, but if she does it 30 years later he complains. "Do you have to be sloppy about everything you do?"

The hardest kind of boss to work for is the one who insists on looking you squarely in the eye when he calls you on the carpet and bawls you out. This is because you know he's enjoying himself. A boss who dislikes rebuking an employee usually keeps his eye on the ceiling or stares out the window until his distasteful chore is over.

Any liberated woman over 40 years or 140 pounds who seeks

Add pretty sights: Two small children trying to whip the rainy day doldrums by pressing their faces against a wet window pane to see which can make the flatter pug nose.

Few men who take guests to a restaurant luncheon or dinner have the courage to check the addition on the bill when it comes: if they did, they'd be amazed at how often they were being cheated, knowingly or unknowingly.

Socrates was the ancient Greek philosopher who has often been called the wisest man who ever lived. He is also, you may recall, the fellow who said, "Once made equal to man, woman becomes his superior."

A delusion is what a fat man has who really believes that wearing either a single-breasted or a double-breasted suit will make him look slimmer.

I never yet have met a red-haired woman who had an inferiority complex or felt she had led an altogether unsatisfactory life.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Although easily understood as a humane or even as a political gesture, the effort by the Nixon administration to guarantee a $250-million loan to Lockheed Aircraft can hardly be equated with its philosophy.

Either that, or the philosophy is changing to accommodate the very difficult realities of an economy in transition, as suggested by some recent actions.

The philosophical stance referred to has been publicly avowed on numerous occasions in the past two or three years. It has been restated and upheld as basic Nixon dogma. It seeks a hands-off policy in regard to the free market.

In its pure form, the free market would permit wages and prices to seek their own level, with the most efficient and productive workers and companies being the most rewarded and successful and long-lived.

In keeping with its beliefs for example, the administration has steadfastly refused to become involved in wage-price guideposts, even though intense inflation has persisted beyond the timetable set for its rout.

The market must, so far as is possible, be permitted to operate in accord with the law of supply and demand; interference by big government, with exceptions, brings waste and dislocations. That has been the belief, honored as if sacred. The philosophy was expressed a few weeks ago by George Shultz, the budget director, in a speech to the Economic Club of Chicago.

The federal government, he said, "will seek to create a climate in which a free economy can expand steadily and solidly without domination by government."

Has the philosophy been adhered to?

In regard to the dominant issue, that of governmental intervention in wage and price settlements, there has been a weakening. While remaining firm in its aversion to formal wage-price guideposts, it has been acting up.

Statements on construction wages, steel-labor negotiations, automobile price tags are among examples of increased use of presidential influence. But there has been no clear renunciation on the credo, and it is difficult to imagine there will be.

In the Lockheed case it seeks aid for a company that has been unable to compete financially. Many arguments can be summoned to defend the move, that so many jobs are at stake, that national defense demands its survival, and that the problems are only temporary.

All the arguments may to some degree have merit, but they just don't fit the philosophy. The suspicion that many scholars have today is that perhaps more government management is indeed needed, like it or not.

BUMPING along toward Manhattan aboard a Long Island local, one hardened commuter told another, "I've got a problem. Tonight when I get home, I'm going to set a trap for my wife." "Wow!" cried the other, "Whom do you suspect?" Thoroughly satisfied with the reaction he had inspired, Commuter Number One resumed reading his paper, and said, "A mouse."

Marc Connelly, famed raconteur and author of the play "Green Pastures," asserts that Julius Caesar's conquest of Ireland was held up for six months by two stalwarts: Clancy and Finnegan. When they were finally captured — by six legions — and hauled off to Rome, Caesar had them thrown into the arena of the Coliseum and ordered 500 ravenous lions to be turned loose on them.

It was a bigger attraction than the Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight. The arena was jammed. Speculators reaped a fortune. While the crowd was filing in, the jaunty Finnegan pointed to Clancy, "See that beautiful blonde cuddling up to Caesar? Well, this morning she gave me the eye, and" — just then, there was a mighty roar — "Sorry, Clancy, here come the lions; I'll have to tell you the rest later!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can I track down the cause of a peculiar mouth odor? My husband notices it only occasionally. It doesn't seem to be related to anything I've eaten.

Dear Mrs. E.: Halitosis, or bad breath, can usually be traced to the teeth, the gums, the sinuses, and the nasal passages.

If there is no disease in these areas, then the stomach and upper intestinal tract are explored.

You obviously have ruled out garlic, onions and some types of herbs that produce persistent odors.

Some chronic infections of the lungs, such as bronchitis and emphysema, can also produce an unpleasant mouth odor, as can diabetes, kidney disease, and even some types of anemia.

A general physical examination, which includes minute dental study, may pinpoint the cause and help to eradicate the odor.

An interesting suggestion once came to my attention. Dr. John R. Richardson of Boston pointed out that 8 to 10 glasses of water daily often resulted in the disappearance of bad breath in those of his patients who had no other causes for this unpleasant condition.

It's worth a try, unless your own doctor feels that this amount of fluid is not good for you.

Our baby was born with a club foot. He is now 3 months old. We are concerned that he may need surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R., Okla. Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: Club foot is not a rare birth abnormality. It seems to be an inherited tendency, especially in families known to have other birth defects.

The condition is recognized early because the foot is turned inward at the ankle.

Treatment is begun almost as soon as the condition is recognized. The foot and part of the leg are placed in a cast, and kept there for many months.

The results of this treatment with cast and manipulation are excellent, especially when started early.

Only rarely is surgery resorted to. When it is, success is almost always assured.

Does leprosy ever occur in the United States?

Mr. R. E. La. Dear Mr. E.: Occasionally, in the Southern gulf states, cases do appear. With modern treatment, most cases are either completely controlled or cured.

In your very state, there is a remarkable institute, the National Leprosarium, for the diagnosis and treatment of this disease.

Don't pick or irritate moles of the skin.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman
CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

I witnessed a radical-led mob of some 2,000 misfits, shouting obscenities, attempt to storm the Capitol on Wednesday of this week. The sight was unbelievable and beyond description. Seeing this pathetic rabble made me feel very sad and very indignant. I was sad because of the attempted humiliation of our beautiful Capital City, and the fact that many of us have apparently failed a great many young people who do themselves and our great nation no credit.

I was disturbed because of the many deliberate violations of the law and the necessity of sweeping the streets to maintain order which resulted in the arrest of many innocent people. In this connection, I want to commend the law enforcement officers involved for their professional conduct in the handling of a very difficult situation.

According to overseas news reports of events of the week, the United States is on the verge of anarchy, and this makes me angry.

The argument being made by the protesters is that they are trying to bring the war to an end by endeavoring to paralyze the government. Yet, the number of troops in Southeast Asia has been steadily reduced so that the total is less than half of the peak in 1969. The demonstrators in Washington this week did not aid their cause — whatever it is.

As President Lincoln once said, "It has long been a grave question whether any government, not too strong for the liberties of its citizens, can be strong enough to maintain its existence in great emergencies."

The major legislative item considered by the House this week was a bill to increase the outstanding loan ceiling of the Small Business Administration. This measure, which was reported from the Committee on Banking and Currency, of which I am a member is emergency legislation. It would increase from $2.2 billion to $3.1 billion the total amount of loans guarantees, obligations, and other commitments which may be outstanding from the Business Loan and Investment Funds of the SBA. Without this bill the SBA would be unable to make any additional loans once it reaches the current $2.2 billion ceiling by the end of this month.

Over the years the SBA has been one of the most successful government agencies in assisting the development of business opportunities for individuals at very little cost to the taxpayers. It has been especially helpful in economically deprived areas. I feel that this expansion of the SBA's capabilities is definitely in the best public interest.

Many of my readers will remember the old Postal Savings System. This government plan designed to encourage individual thrift, was cancelled in 1966 because it became uneconomical to operate. After extensive efforts over the last five years by postal and Treasury authorities to contact depositors and return the principal and interest due them, there was still $10,765,101 in unclaimed accounts early this year.

The Treasury Department has sent letters to the last known address of all depositors with accounts of $10 or more. Since 1967, less than three percent of these accounts have been liquidated. Therefore, on Monday, May 3, the House passed legislation authorizing the Treasury to determine the amount reasonably required to pay the future claims of rightful owners and then distribute the surplus funds among the states on a pro rata basis. Ohio will receive $250,117.

The Senate Appropriations Committee is presently conducting hearings on the fiscal 1972 budget estimates for public works and this week heard from Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, Director Division of Naval Reactors for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Armed Services Committee has resumed its hearings on authorizations for military procurement and received testimony from Leonard Rodberg Chairman, Coalition of National Priorities and Military Policies.

In addition, the Ad Hoc Subcommittee on Research and Development continues its executive hearings on proposed authorizations for Army research, development, test and evaluation of missiles.

The Committee on Commerce opened hearings on laws relative to motor vehicle insurance. The major bill which the Committee is considering would establish a national no-fault system of personal injury automobile insurance.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has resumed hearings on legislation dealing with Vietnam withdrawal. The Committee is presently considering six bills and resolutions related to the Indochina war, including the Vietnam Disengagement Act which calls for withdrawal of all U.S. forces by December 31, 1971.

The Senate Committee on Public Works has resumed hearings on a bill to establish a national environmental laboratory system. Hearings on this legislation will continue throughout next week.

The select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs heard testimony on the problems of eliminating hunger and malnutrition in America.

The Senate Commerce Committee in the last week of April reported a bill establishing media spending limits for political campaigns by candidates for Federal office. As reported, the bill allows 5 cents per eligible voter for broadcast advertising and another 5 cents per voter for other types of media advertising. Ceilings would apply to both primary and general elections.

The Agricultural and Forestry Subcommittee on Rural Development opened hearings on President Nixon's rural revenue sharing program. On March 10, President Nixon sent a message to Congress proposing a $1.1 billion revenue sharing program for rural development.

The House Committee on Agriculture continued hearings on the extension of the Sugar Act of 1965 which expires on December 31, 1971. Representatives from the AFL-CIO testified in favor of an extension.

The Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, continued its second week of hearings on the Bank Reform Act of 1971. The bill limits interlocking control interest in banks and prohibits extension of credit by one bank to purchase stock in another.

The Committee on Government Operations, Subcommittee on Legislation and Military Operations continued hearings on the President's Reorganization Plan. The Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations began hearings on the safety and effectiveness of new drugs. The Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration testified. The Subcommittee on Conservation and Natural Resources has begun hearing

Where there is no secrecy, as in computers, the U.S. leads the world. But the point that Teller makes over and over again is that in nuclear technology, where secrecy is strictly adhered to, we are falling behind the Soviets in every way. Our "sufficiency" will not long remain sufficient unless the attitude toward military inventiveness changes. An "open" policy would encourage such a change. No SALT talk decisions can assure parity in military technological fecundity, which is something that comes out of an attitude and cannot be stifled if the atmosphere is right.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The kind of cook that annoys me most is the kind that thinks you can improve the taste of anything by dumping a double handful of raisins in it at the last minute. There are some dishes — sauerkraut for one which simply don't need raisins.

One of the best ways for a general to enjoy renown with posterity is to fight his winning battles only on sides that will look scenic on post cards later. It's a curious fact about the average man's knowledge of medicine: for everyone that can help you stop a nosebleed, there are at least 20 who can give you a positive cure for hicups—or tell you how to get rid of warts.

A bridegroom thinks it's cute for his bride to pad around the kitchen barefoot, but if she does it 30 years later he complains. "Do you have to be so sloppy about everything you do?"

The hardest kind of boss to work for is the one who insists on looking you squarely in the eye when he calls you on the carpet and bawls you out. This is because you know he's enjoying himself. A boss who dislikes rebuking an employee usually keeps his eye on the ceiling or stares out the window until his distasteful chore is over.

Any liberated woman over 40 years or 140 pounds who seeks to prove her freedom by wearing hot pants may win her campaign—but she has lost the war.

Add pretty sights: Two small children trying to whip the rainy day doldrums by pressing their faces against a wet window pane to see which can make the flatter pug nose.

Few men who take guests to a restaurant luncheon or dinner have the courage to check the addition on the bill when it comes; if they do, they'd be amazed at how often they were being cheated, knowingly or unknowingly.

Socrates was the ancient Greek philosopher who has often been called the wisest man who ever lived. He is also, you may recall, the fellow who said, "Once made equal to man, woman becomes his superior."

A delusion is what a fat man has who really believes that wearing either a single-breasted or a double-breasted suit will make him look slimmer.

I never yet have met a red-haired woman who had an inferiority complex or felt she had led an altogether unsatisfactory life.

It is easier to be forgiven for painting a poor picture than for telling a joke badly.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Although easily understood as a humane or even as a political gesture, the effort by the Nixon administration to guarantee a $250-million loan to Lockheed Aircraft can hardly be equated with its philosophy.

Either that, or the philosophy is changing to accommodate the very difficult realities of an economy in transition, as suggested by some recent actions.

The philosophical stance referred to has been publicly avowed on numerous occasions in the past two or three years. It has been restated and upheld as basic Nixon dogma. It seeks a hands-off policy in regard to the free market.

In its pure form, the free market would permit wages and prices to seek their own level, with the most efficient and productive workers and companies being the most rewarded and successful and long-lived.

In keeping with its beliefs for example, the administration has steadfastly refused to become involved in wage-price guidelines, even though intense inflation has persisted beyond the timetable set for its rout.

The market must, so far as is possible, be permitted to operate in accord with the law of supply and demand; interference by big government, with exceptions, brings waste and dislocations. That has been the belief, honored as if sacred.

The philosophy was expressed a few weeks ago by George Shultz, the budget director, in a speech to the Economic Club of Chicago.

The federal government, he said, "will seek to create a climate in which a free economy can expand steadily and solidly without domination by government."

Has the philosophy been adhered to?

In regard to the dominant issue, that of governmental intervention in wage and price settlements, there has been a weakening. While remaining firm in its aversion to formal wage-price guidelines, it has been acting up.

Statements on construction wages, steel-labor negotiations, automobile price tags are among examples of increased use of presidential influence. But there has been no clear renunciation on the credo, and it is difficult to imagine there will be.

In the Lockheed case it seeks aid for a company that has been unable to compete financially. Many arguments can be summoned to defend the move, that so many jobs are at stake, that national defense demands its survival, and that the problems are only temporary.

All the arguments may to some degree have merit, but they just don't fit the philosophy. The suspicion that many scholars have today is that perhaps more government management is indeed needed, like it or not.

Try and Stop Me

BUMPING along toward Manhattan aboard a Long Island local, one hardened commuter told another, "I've got a problem. Tonight when I get home, I'm going to set a trap for my wife."

"Wow!" cried the other. "Whom do you suspect?" Thoroughly satisfied with the reaction he had inspired, Commuter Number One resumed reading his paper, and said, "A mouse."

Marc Connelly, famed raconteur and author of the play "Green Pastures," asserts that Julius Caesar's conquest of Ireland was held up for six months by two stalwarts: Clancy and Finnegan. When they were finally captured — by six legions — and hauled off to Rome, Caesar had them thrown into the arena of the Coliseum and ordered 500 ravenous lions to be turned loose on them.

It was a bigger attraction than the Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight. The arena was jammed. Speculators reaped a fortune. While the crowd was filing in, the jaunty Finnegan pointed to Clancy, "See that beautiful blonde cuddling up to Caesar? Well, this morning she gave me the eye, and"—just then, there was a mighty roar—"Sorry, Clancy, here come the lions; I'll have to tell you the rest later!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can I track down the cause of a peculiar mouth odor? My husband notices it only occasionally. It doesn't seem to be related to anything I've eaten.

Mrs. E.R.B., Va. Dear Mrs. B.: Halitosis, or bad breath, can usually be traced to the teeth, the gums, the sinuses, and the nasal passages.

If there is no disease in these areas, then the stomach and upper intestinal tract are explored.

You obviously have ruled out garlic, onions and some types of herbs that produce persistent odors.

Some chronic infections of the lungs, such as bronchitis and emphysema, can also produce an unpleasant mouth odor, as can diabetes, kidney disease, and even some types of anemia. A general physical examination, which includes minute dental study, may pinpoint the cause and help to eradicate the odor.

An interesting suggestion once came to my attention. Dr. John R. Richardson of Boston pointed out that 8 to 10 glasses of water daily often resulted in the disappearance of bad breath in those of his patients who had no other causes for this unpleasant condition.

It's worth a try, unless your own doctor feels that this amount of fluid is not good for you.

Our baby was born with a club foot. He is now 3 months old. We are concerned that he may need surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R., Okla. Dear Mr. and Mrs. R.: Club foot is not a rare birth abnormality. It seems to be an inherited tendency, especially in families known to have other birth defects.

The condition is recognized early because the foot is turned inward at the ankle.

Treatment is begun almost as soon as the condition is recognized. The foot and part of the leg are placed in a cast, and kept there for many months.

The results of this treatment with cast and manipulation are excellent, especially when started early.

Only rarely is surgery resorted to. When it is, success is almost always assured.

Does leprosy ever occur in the United States?

Mr. R. E., La. Dear Mr. E.: Occasionally, in the Southern Gulf states, cases

do appear. With modern treatment, most cases are either completely controlled or cured.

In your very state, there is a remarkable institute, the National Leprosarium, for the diagnosis and treatment of this disease.

Don't pick or irritate moles of the skin.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman
CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

I witnessed a radical-led mob of some 2,000 misfits, shouting obscenities, attempt to storm the Capitol on Wednesday of this week. The sight was unbelievable and beyond description. Seeing this pathetic rabble made me feel very sad and very indignant. I was sad because of the attempted humiliation of our beautiful Capital City, and the fact that many of us have apparently failed a great many young people who do themselves and our great nation no credit.

I was disturbed because of the many deliberate violations of the law and the necessity of sweeping the streets to maintain order which resulted in the arrest of many innocent people. In this connection, I want to commend the law enforcement officers involved for their professional conduct in the handling of a very difficult situation.

According to overseas news reports of events of the week, the United States is on the verge of anarchy, and this makes me angry.

The argument being made by the protesters is that they are trying to bring the war to an end by endeavoring to paralyze the government. Yet, the number of troops in Southeast Asia has been steadily reduced so that the total is less than half of the peak in 1969. The demonstrators in Washington this week did not aid their cause — whatever it is.

As President Lincoln once said, "It has long been a grave question whether any government, not too strong for the liberties of its citizens, can be strong enough to maintain its existence in great emergencies."

The major legislative item considered by the House this week was a bill to increase the outstanding loan ceiling of the Small Business Administration. This measure, which was reported from the Committee on Banking and Currency, of which I am a member is emergency legislation. It would increase from $2.2 billion to $3.1 billion the total amount of loans guarantees, obligations and other commitments which may be outstanding from the Business Loan and Investment Funds of the SBA. Without this bill the SBA would be unable to make any additional loans once it reaches the current $2.2 billion ceiling by the end of this month.

Over the years the SBA has been one of the most successful government agencies in assisting the development of business opportunities for individuals at very little cost to the taxpayers. It has been especially helpful in economically depressed areas. I feel that this expansion of the SBA's capabilities is definitely in the best public interest.

Many of my readers will remember the old Postal Savings System. This government plan designed to encourage individual thrift, was cancelled in 1966 because it became uneconomical to operate. After extensive efforts over the last five years by postal and Treasury authorities to contact depositors and return the principal and interest due them, there was still $10,765,101 in unclaimed accounts early this year.

The Treasury Department has sent letters to the last known address of all depositors with accounts of $10 or more. Since 1967, less than three percent of these accounts have been liquidated. Therefore, on Monday, May 3, the House passed legislation authorizing the Treasury to determine the amount reasonably required to pay the future claims of rightful owners and then distribute the surplus funds among the states on a pro rata basis. Ohio will receive $250,117.

The Senate Appropriations Committee is presently conducting hearings on the fiscal 1972 budget estimates for public works and this week heard from Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, Director Division of Naval Reactors for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Armed Services Committee has resumed its hearings on authorizations for military procurement and received testimony from Leonard Rosenberg Chairman, Coalition of National Priorities and Military Policies.

In addition, the Ad Hoc Subcommittee on Research and Development continues its executive hearings on proposed authorizations for Army research, development, test and evaluation of missiles.

The Committee on Commerce opened hearings on laws relative to motor vehicle insurance. The major bill which the Committee is considering would establish a national no-fault system of personal injury automobile insurance.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has resumed hearings on legislation dealing with Vietnam withdrawal. The Committee is presently considering six bills and resolutions related to the Indochina war, including the Vietnam Disengagement Act which calls for withdrawal of all U.S. forces by December 31, 1971.

The Senate Committee on Public Works has resumed hearings on a bill to establish a national environmental laboratory system. Hearings on this legislation will continue throughout next week.

The select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs heard testimony on the problems of eliminating hunger and malnutrition in America. The Senate Commerce Committee in the last week of April reported a bill establishing media spending limits for political campaigns by candidates for Federal office. As reported, the bill allows 5 cents per eligible voter for broadcast advertising and another 5 cents per voter for other types of media advertising. Ceilings would apply to both primary and general elections.

The Agricultural and Forestry Subcommittee on Rural Development opened hearings on President Nixon's rural revenue sharing program. On March 10, President Nixon sent a message to Congress proposing a $1.1 billion revenue sharing program for rural development.

The House Committee on Agriculture continued hearings on the extension of the Sugar Act of 1965 which expires on December 31, 1971. Representatives from the AFL-CIO testified in favor of an extension.

The Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, continued its second week of hearings on the Bank Reform Act of 1971. The bill limits interlocking control interest in banks and prohibits extension of credit by one bank to purchase stock in another.

The Committee on Government Operations, Subcommittee on Legislation and Military Operations continued hearings on the President's Reorganization Plan. The Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations began hearings on the safety and effectiveness of new drugs.

The Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration testified. The Subcommittee on Conservation and Natural Resources has begun hearing

This bill is now being considered by the full membership of the Committee and it is anticipated that this legislation will be brought before the House for consideration within the month.

The House Education and Labor Committee is considering two major proposals. The first would extend the Economic Opportunity Act for five years. The second bill relates to the Fair Labor Standards and the Minimum Wage.

Hurricanes Still Get Girls' Names

MIAMI (AP) — The women's lib movement may object, but quite a few women like having hurricanes named after them.

As the hurricane season approaches, the National Hurricane Center is getting dozens of letters from women across the country saying they would be proud to have their name used. "The letters are 20 to 1 in favor of using girls' names," said Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the center.

Claiming the use of girls' names for hurricanes is degrading, women's lib has been campaigning to stamp out the tradition which began in World War II when GIs in the Pacific began naming typhoons for their mothers, wives or girlfriends.

"We considered using names from mythology or those of infamous characters," said Simpson. "The trouble is, we couldn't find enough of them." The center will shortly release an alphabetical list of hurricane names for the next 10 years.

Judge Allows Postal Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Tuesday denied a request by magazine and newspaper publishers to block temporary increases in postal rates, including a boost of two cents in the price of a stamp, scheduled to go into effect on Sunday.

Judge William B. Bryant denied a request for a preliminary injunction against the imposition of the higher rate that had been sought by the Magazine Publishers Association and the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The U.S. Postal Service has scheduled the rate increases averaging about one-third of present rates to take effect on Sunday.

Views On TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "60 Minutes" concentrated Tuesday night on the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library, to be dedicated later this month, and on secret numbered Swiss bank accounts.

In a preview of the library—with its handsome architecture, murals showing Johnson at various stages of his political career and thousands of red boxes holding his papers—the former president told of a critical hot-line threat during the 1957 Israel-Arab war. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin threatened Soviet action, and the then-president countered, he said, by ordering the 6th Fleet to move to within 50 miles of Syria. A cease-fire came shortly afterwards.

Those secret Swiss bank accounts are widely known. More-ly Safer, by comment and some interviews with Swiss bankers, added some details. They pay 4½ per cent interest, and no questions are asked of applicants.

As usual, it was a lively, informative hour.

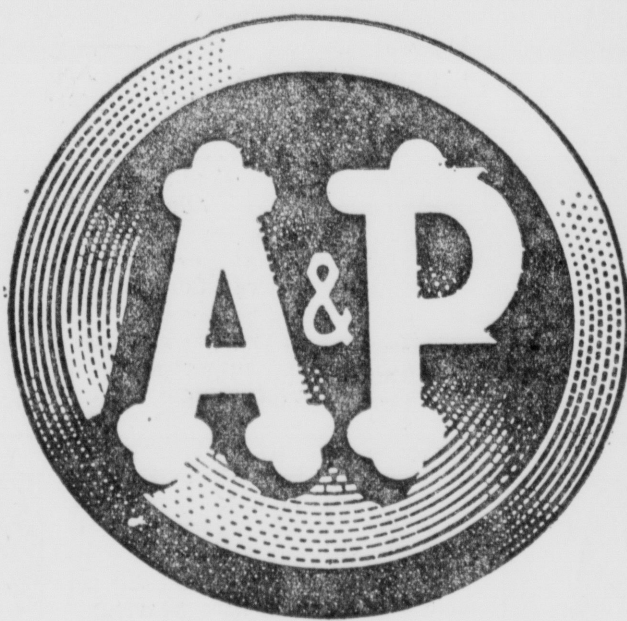

"The Frog Prince," a children's show based—oh, so loosely—on the ancient fairy tale about the princess and the frog, is being shown on a number of stations during the next few days. It is one of those specials complete with sponsors that are getting national exposure by being placed on individual stations instead of the major networks.

The stars of the program were Jim Henson's endearing and amusing puppets, the Muppets, but this Canada-produced effort seemed to strain for whimsy and humor. Along the line even the puppets lost some of their charm.

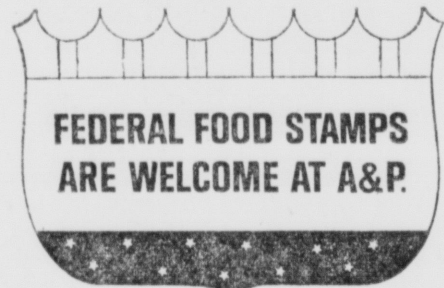

The difficulty was trying to update and inject a little fun into a familiar child's tale. In this case, the prince was turned into a frog by a wicked witch, but had the good fortune to hop in the midst of Kermit and his "Sesame Street" frog friends. Meanwhile, the princess was under a spell, too—one that made her talk in Spoonerisms.

CBS' last-minute entry for a summer replacement will be a variety hour starring Sonny and Cher, the husband-wife singing team. It will premiere Aug. 1 and run six weeks in the Sunday evening hour preceding "Henry VIII and His Six Wives."

Ohio Soldier Dies
In Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army CWO Ronald L. Evans, whose wife, Jacquelyn, lives in Morrow, Ohio, has died in Southeast Asia of a cause other than battle wounds, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

Baseball Hall of Famer Ty Cobb was known as The Georgia Peach.

Hurricanes Still Get Girls' Names

MIAMI (AP) — The women's lib movement may object, but quite a few women like having hurricanes named after them. As the hurricane season approaches, the National Hurricane Center is getting dozens of letters from women across the country saying they would be proud to have their name used. "The letters are 20 to 1 in favor of using girls' names," said Dr. Robert H. Simpson, director of the center. Claiming the use of girls' names for hurricanes is degrading, women's lib has been campaigning to stamp out the tradition which began in World War II when GIs in the Pacific began naming typhoons for their mothers, wives or girlfriends.

"We considered using names from mythology or those of infamous characters," said Simpson. "The trouble is, we couldn't find enough of them. The center will shortly release an alphabetical list of hurricane names for the next 10 years."

Judge Allows Postal Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Tuesday denied a request by magazine and newspaper publishers to block temporary increases in postal rates, including a boost of two cents in the price of a stamp, scheduled to go into effect on Sunday.

Judge William B. Bryant denied a request for a preliminary injunction against the imposition of the higher rate that had been sought by the Magazine Publishers Association and the American Newspaper Publishers Association. The U.S. Postal Service has scheduled the rate increases averaging about one-third of present rates to take effect on Sunday.

Views On TV-Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "60 Minutes" concentrated Tuesday night on the Lyndon Baines Johnson Library, to be dedicated later this month, and on secret numbered Swiss bank accounts.

In a preview of the library—with its handsome architecture, murals showing Johnson at various stages of his political career and thousands of red boxes holding his papers—the former president told of a critical hot-line threat during the 1967 Israel-Arab war. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin threatened Soviet action, and the then-president countered, he said, by ordering the 6th Fleet to move to within 50 miles of Syria. A cease-fire came shortly afterwards.

Those secret Swiss bank accounts are widely known. More by Safer, by comment and some interviews with Swiss bankers, added some details. They pay 4 1/2 per cent interest, and no questions are asked of applicants.

As usual, it was a lively, informative hour. "The Frog Prince," a children's show based—oh, so loosely—on the ancient fairy tale about the princess and the frog, is being shown on a number of stations during the next few days. It is one of those specials complete with sponsors that are getting national exposure by being placed on individual stations instead of the major networks.

The stars of the program were Jim Henson's endearing and amusing puppets, the Muppets, but this Canada-produced effort seemed to strain for whimsy and humor. Along the line even the puppets lost some of their charm.

The difficulty was trying to update and inject a little fun into a familiar child's tale. In this case, the prince was turned into a frog by a wicked witch, but had the good fortune to hop in the midst of Kermit and his "Sesame Street" frog friends. Meanwhile, the princess was under a spell, too—one that made her talk in Spoonerisms.

Burned Coed Probe

TOLEDO Ohio (AP) — Blood tests indicate a Bowling Green State University coed found ablaze in her dormitory room last weekend had taken a dose of the hallucinogen "speed" cut with strychnine shortly before the fire.

Patricia Anne Tillotson, 18, a freshman from Lima, was found early Saturday engulfed in flames at the foot of her bed. She received severe burns over 50 per cent of her body and remained in critical condition Tuesday at Toledo's St. Vincent Hospital.

Authorities still have not determined what caused the fire and said they are continuing their investigation.

TUITION AWARD — Miss Cassandra Kaye Harter is the recipient of an award for cosmetology training at Ohio State School of Cosmetology in Columbus. She is the daughter of Mrs. Fred E. Ray and resides at home, Route 1, Stoutsville.

County Garden Clubs will hold its Spring Meeting and Flower Show, with noon luncheon on June 8. The all-day session will be at the Robtown Parish Hall with Solaqua Garden Club as host. Various committees were appointed by Mrs. Huston. A program on conservation has been planned for the morning and a flower arranger will be on the program in the afternoon. Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 10:30 for the flower show. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Huston no later than June 5. Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Donald Watt.

The bus trip planned for June 10 was discussed in detail by Mrs. Brooks, supervisor. The group will tour flower gardens and other points of interest in Cincinnati. The bus will depart from Robtown at 7:45 a.m. Deadline for expenses and cancellations is May 15. Mrs. Brooks may be contacted at 474-4759.

There will be no June meeting. Election of officers will be in July. Appointed to the nominating committee were Mrs. James Hott, Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh and Mrs. Lee Downs.

Mrs. Hott opened the program with a poem "God Is Not Dead." An interesting article, "Why Peonies Don't Bloom" was prepared and read by Mrs. Glenn Rinehart.

The peony or "piney" of old fashioned gardens, next to the iris, is the most generally grown perennial about the home and garden in the northeastern United States. It grows to a height of 2 or 3 feet, forming large clumps of dark foliage that is comparatively free from insect and disease attack. In late spring the plants are covered with large white, pink, rose, crimson and some cream-colored, double or single flowers.

Watering in dry weather in early spring or summer may be necessary. Care should be taken to keep the water off the foliage and flower.

Some of the reasons for lack of bloom are too deep planting, excessive shade, poor drainage, late freezing in spring, lack of fertility, root disease and lack of division and transplanting.

The uses for peonies in landscape design are numerous. In beds or rows by themselves they do very well and they may be mixed with shrubbery or used as a background for the perennial border.

The monthly hint "Shrubs For Flowers and Berries" was given by Mrs. Howard Koch.

The highbush cranberry is a massive, hardy shrub with inconspicuous white flowers and scarlet berries summer and fall prized by songbirds. Evergreen mahonia is an aristocratic shrub with neat, glossy, green holly-like leaves which turn purple in the fall. Yellow flowers in May are followed by blue berries. Other shrubs with berries include the Christmas snoball, cranberry carpet, Christmas holly, red honeysuckle and firethorn. Shrubs need careful selection and should be purchased, freshly dug, from reliable firms. Select only those plants which grow well in your locality. Buy the best of them and be sure they are hardy.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Brooks, assisted by Mrs. Mary Besanson and Mrs. Koch to 22 members and one guest, Miss Ethel Creager. Spring bouquets were displayed by Miss Mary Shortridge and Mrs. Huston. The door-prize was won by Mrs. Bernard Savy.

Children's Hospital Twigs Will Expand Membership

A program was launched on April 29 which will expand the Columbus Children's Hospital Twig auxiliary throughout Ohio for the first time in history.

At a tea held in the Governor's Mansion, more than 200 women who are Twig members learned about the new program. "Twigs in Buckeye Land" from Mrs. Jack C. Bass, chairman of the interim committee organizing the new statewide program.

"We want to inform the general membership and ask their help," she explained before the tea began. "We need the auxiliary's assistance and participation."

This is the first time the Twigs of Children's Hospital have made plans to expand their membership on a statewide basis.

Currently there are more than 150 Twig groups in the Columbus area. The total membership is more than 3,000.

Because Children's serves youngsters from all over Ohio, Twigs statewide committee reasoned, there must be women who would like to become involved with the Hospital. The new program is a way in which people who use and depend on Children's facilities can help. Their work can make it possible for the hospital to serve all the children who come to it for care, regardless of their parents' ability to pay for their treatment.

"There is a lot of unpaid care at Children's and many counties depend on the hospital for pediatric treatment," Mrs. Bass said. "We hope to reach the women who would like to get together with friends and make a real investment to the health of children."

Mrs. Bass added that new twigs will be formed as soon as possible. There are also plans for regional and county twig chairmen as the program grows. The Columbus Twigs will serve as the parent twig group and act as advisers to the statewide twig committee.

Twigs have been contributing time and money to Children's Hospital for more than 50 years. Last year they raised more than $183,000 for the hospital in a variety of projects including their annual, locally famous, Twig Bazaar, and their Thrift Shop operations in Columbus.

Mrs. Edmund A. Donnan Jr., twig general chairman and a member of Twig 3 and Mrs. A. D. Wolfrey, past general chairman of the twigs and a member of Twig 65 assisted at the tea.

Anyone wanting additional information about the "Twigs in Buckeye Land" program should write to Mrs. Bass or Mrs. Donnan in care of Children's Hospital, volunteer director, Columbus, Ohio 43205.

"There is a lot of unpaid care at Children's and many counties depend on the hospital for pediatric treatment," Mrs. Bass said. "We hope to reach the women who would like to get together with friends and make a real investment to the health of children."

Mrs. Bass added that new twigs will be formed as soon as possible. There are also plans for regional and county twig chairmen as the program grows. The Columbus Twigs will serve as the parent twig group and act as advisers to the statewide twig committee.

Twigs have been contributing time and money to Children's Hospital for more than 50 years. Last year they raised more than $183,000 for the hospital in a variety of projects including their annual, locally famous, Twig Bazaar, and their Thrift Shop operations in Columbus.

Mrs. Edmund A. Donnan Jr., twig general chairman and a member of Twig 3 and Mrs. A. D. Wolfrey, past general chairman of the twigs and a member of Twig 65 assisted at the tea.

Anyone wanting additional information about the "Twigs in Buckeye Land" program should write to Mrs. Bass or Mrs. Donnan in care of Children's Hospital, volunteer director, Columbus, Ohio 43205.

Indian Wins Court Hearing On Poor City Conditions

B. WILLIAM C. WERTZ
Associated Press Writer
WINNER, S.D. (AP) — A Sioux Indian, backed by government-funded lawyers, has won a hearing in federal court on charges that the poor Indian Town section of this rural marketing center is being deprived of its share of municipal services.

John Fire brought the suit against Mayor Paul Blomstrom and eight other city officials claiming services such as electricity, sewage and street paving are provided in an "intentionally discriminatory manner."

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Andrew Bogue of Rapid City denied the city's request Monday to throw out Fire's suit and set a hearing for June 1 on the request of a preliminary injunction against the city.

Judge Bogue cited a Jan. 23 ruling by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that the Mississippi town of Shaw was required to bring about "equalization" of services for white and black areas. The appeals court found that nearly all homes fronting unpaved streets and without sewers were inhabited by blacks and that this amounted to discrimination.

Fire claims a similar situation exists in Indian Town, a narrow strip of plank and tarpaper shacks near the business district of this county seat of 3,800.

In his suit on behalf of all Indian Town's residents, he said the predominantly white uphill section has paved streets, sidewalks, drainage systems, electricity, sewage and other services that are lacking in Indian Town.

"At all times, but especially during the spring, rain and melting snow funnel efficiently and rapidly down the paved streets and gutters and flood into Indian Town," the suit said.

Brown Winner In SERS Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown is legally entitled to appoint counsel to represent the School Employees Retirement System, Common Pleas Judge Clifford Rader ruled Tuesday.

Brown had appointed Jack Folkerth as the board's lawyer in a suit brought by Brown against SERS. But the board rejected Folkerth and named J. Paul McNamara to represent it.

The SERS board contended Brown could not sue it and at the same time appoint counsel to represent it in the suit.

Brown's suit asks for a declaratory judgment on the legality of two loans made by the board to the Twin Lakes Manufacturing Co. of Tampa, Fla.

Cleveland Bankruptcy Said Near

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Plain Dealer said in a copy-right story today that the City of Cleveland will run out of money about the time the successor to Mayor Carl B. Stokes is elected in November if current spending practices continue.

It said that not only are a few major departments spending more than they are officially allowed, but the city's income is almost certain to fall nearly $10 million short of the estimates of Finance Director Philip M. Dearborn.

Also, the newspaper said, the key economic indicators for the city show a continuing downward trend and the U.S. Commerce Department is predicting that a steel strike is likely this summer.

The city's financial problems began with the defeat of a proposal last November to raise the 1 per cent city income tax to 1.8 per cent. That issue was tied to dropping 5.8 mills from the property taxes.

The property tax was dropped but another proposal to raise the income tax by six-tenths of one per cent was defeated at a special election in February.

The Plain Dealer said its analysis shows the income tax will not yield more than $40 million this year, compared to the mayor's estimate of $48,991,118.

The county auditor's office also reports that first half collection of the real estate tax shows the city coming up about $1.3 million short of its estimated resources, it added.

The Stokes administration has made several cutbacks in services and laid off workers in an effort to meet the problem.

The Plain Dealer said the administration also could ask city employees to forgo wage increases negotiated last summer, which would mean a saving of about $3.48 million; could start another round of layoffs; could cut out whole departments.

Either of the last two remedies would drastically cut city services.

gathered together at the Teen Age Institute on Alcohol and Drugs which was organized by the Ohio Department of Health and held at Wittenberg University.

Five students who attended shared their experiences with those attending Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Pickaway Community Services Council.

Rod Kasler, sponsored by the Circleville Police Department, presented background on the purpose of the Institute. Those attending represented a cross section of young people in Ohio. Some were from small schools, some large. Some had no drug or alcohol problems, others to a degree that was unbelievable to our students.

Sara Knox, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church, described the type of sessions held. The object of the Institute was to give pure facts, not moralize, and to let the students draw their own conclusions. After listening to various speakers, the young people were divided into smaller groups where they were asked to evaluate the speaker as to consistency, believability, etc. Secondly, they were to try and agree as to what was the main point of the speaker. Near the close of the Institute, groups elected a representative to the Governor's Board on Alcoholism.

Sue Bennett, sponsored by Kiwanis, described two of the speakers who were most interesting to her. The first was a boy who is now a member of the Teen Age branch of Alcoholics Anonymous and is now able to plan a future in medicine and is enrolling in college. The second was a dope addict who has "kicked the habit." He spoke of his experiences with marijuana and LSD.

Brenda O'Dell attended on a scholarship furnished by the Ohio Department of Health. Brenda explained the value of the recreation portion of the Institute. First, the activities served as an ice breaker and a means of getting acquainted. Secondly, it was a necessary break from the concentration expended listening to the speakers and the evaluation sessions. No adults were present at these activities and the boys and girls could talk more freely and openly.

Lee Jolliffe, sponsored by Kiwanis, reviewed some of the conclusions made at the end of the Institute. One was that most of the movies being shown to warn of drugs were extremely ineffective. Second, the students hoped that more rehabilitation centers would be made available. Third, that legislation for smoking marijuana be changed to lighter for the first offense and heavier for the second. Fourth it was hoped that the law be changed so that drug treatment of juveniles could be performed without parental consent. Fifth, penal institutions should be reformed with more stress on rehabilitation. Sixth, it was recommended that age restriction for the sale of alcoholic beverages be removed for the reason that many drink to make themselves seem older and just to see if they can get away with it. Lee hastened to add that she did not agree with all of these.

Rod Kasler explained that Jill Ferguson, sponsored by the Ohio Department of Health and Connie Glick, sponsored by the Group Home, also attended but were unable to attend the luncheon.

A very stimulating question and answer period followed. As one student expressed it, the problem in Circleville is quite small and she and the others attending are anxious to do anything they can to keep the problem from becoming like it is in some other schools.

Any groups wishing to have these students speak to them can make arrangements by calling Rod Kasler, 474-5726 or Sara Knox, 474-7315.

Ohio Train Starts Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — A six-car train, subsidized as an "urgent necessity" by the states of New York, Ohio and Michigan, pulled out of Grand Central Terminal for Chicago Monday night. It had 18 passengers aboard when it left the station at 8:32 p.m.—two minutes late—and was due in Chicago 2:25 p.m. Tuesday after stops in Buffalo and Cleveland.

The service was instituted after Cleveland was omitted from the new Amtrak rail system.

When Amtrak, the government-sponsored passenger service operation, took over on May 1, the only New York-Chicago route was via Newark, N.J., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Canton, Ohio, the old "Broadway Limited's" route.

The route of the "20th Century," including Cleveland, was instituted for a six months trial provided that the three states agree to pick up two-thirds of any losses that occur. The train also will make connections, beginning June 1, with a shuttle between Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit.

Shock Treatment Developed To Cure Gambling Addicts

By IAN MCCAUSLAND
Associated Press Writer
SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sydney is a gambling-happy city in a gambling-prone state where it's estimated $1.79 billion is fed into slot machines every year. Psychiatrists have developed a shock treatment to make addicts shun the one-armed bandits. "It's called aversion therapy," said Dr. Karl Koller, who introduced the unit to St. George's Hospital. "The player begins to associate playing the machine with pain and keeps away from them."

"We decided to give this a try when the usual psychiatric method and pills didn't work. We believe the success rate to be around 60 per cent."

"Pokies," as slot machines are called here, keep most of the big clubs in funds in New South Wales, the only state in Australia where they are legal. Last year income to the non-profit clubs was $143 million after a state tax cut of $34 million. On average every man, woman and child in the state loses $31 to the machines in a year.

The people who help boost this figure and who seek help at the hospital initially regard the treatment as a joke. They are led to a slot machine, given "play" coins, and asked to specify how severe a shock they wish. Most start at 20 volts and when they find this has little effect ask for 90 volts. "Patients pick their own level of pain," said Koller. "Some are reduced to tears by the end of a treatment."

Patients do not know when the shocks will come. The average is 30-40 shocks during an hour's session.

A course involves an hour's treatment on five consecutive days. This is followed with one-session visits one and two months later.

Highway Bids Are Opened

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — De Salvo Construction Co., Inc., of Cincinnati was apparent low bidder for construction of the final segment of Interstate 74 linking Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

The Ohio Highway Department said the firm submitted a $9.7 million bid for the 1.9-mile project, which is part of Cincinnati's Northwest Expressway. The state estimate was $10.7 million.

Other major highway projects on which bids were opened include:

—Relocation of a 1.3-mile section of Ohio 76, Coshocton County. Apparent low bidder was W. H. Blausey, Inc., of Woodville, $1.7 million. State estimate was $2.1 million.

—Relocation of a one-mile section of Ohio 335 in Pike County, northeast of Waverly. Apparent low bidder, Engle Construction Co., Inc., of McArthur, $1.74 million. State estimate was $1.68 million.

Ohio Train Starts Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — A six-car train, subsidized as a "urgent necessity" by the states of New York, Ohio and Michigan, pulled out of Grand Central Terminal for Chicago Monday night.

It had 18 passengers aboard when it left the station at 8:32 p.m.—two minutes late—and was due in Chicago 2:25 p.m. Tuesday after stops in Buffalo and Cleveland.

The service was instituted after Cleveland was omitted from the new Amtrak rail system.

When Amtrak, the government-sponsored passenger service operation, took over on May 1, the only New York-Chicago route was via Newark, N.J., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Canton, Ohio, the old "Broadway Limited" route.

The route of the "20th Century," including Cleveland, was instituted for a six months trial provided that the "three states agree to pick up two-thirds of any losses that occur. The train also will make connections, beginning June 1, with a shuttle between Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit.

Tiny Tim Now Proud Father

NEW YORK (AP) — "She's beautiful, and my, she's got a lot of hair," pronounced singer Tiny Tim after seeing his 6-pound 10-ounce daughter for the first time.

His wife, Victoria May Khaury, and the baby were reported doing well at Doctors Hospital. Tiny Tim, whose real name is Herbert Khaury, said he hopes the child, the couple's first, is the start of a big family. He said he was glad at becoming the father of a girl "because boys get into fights and little girls don't." He added that he and his wife, whom he refers to as Miss Vicky, had not chosen a name yet.

VSOP on a bottle of brandy is supposed to mean Very Superior Old Pale.

Logan Elm Boosters Schedule Election

A special meeting of Logan Elm Booster Club will follow the annual music award ceremony in dinner scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Friday in the cafeteria.

Five Points News

By Mrs. Francis Furniss

There were 47 present at the United Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship service followed with 80 present.

Members of the Five Points United Methodist WSCS were hosts at a Mother-Daughter Tea Wednesday evening, May 5th when they met at the church for their regular meeting and party. The president, Mrs. George Kern presided over the business session and heard the various reports. Roll call was answered by sixteen members telling their mother's name. Mrs. Herman Porter, secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Francis Furniss, treasurer gave the financial report.

Mrs. William Davis, chairman of the nominating committee reported and two offices remained unfilled. Mrs. Herman Porter will be secretary for the coming year. Mrs. Francis Furniss, treasurer, Laura Long spiritual leader, Mrs. William Riley, secretary of purple material, Mrs. Arthur Winfough, missionary education, Mrs. Herman Porter and Mrs. Davis, Christian social committee and Laura Long, cheer fund chairman.

The business meeting closed and the group adjourned to the sanctuary where the program was held with several guests present from Derby WSCS. Mrs. Kern in a most pleasing manner introduced her Mother, Mrs. Alford Wood and her daughter Kelly. We were then entertained by the Junior Ensemble choir of Westfall High School under the direction of Miss Ford with Sally Minor at the piano. They sang several selections including "What Color Is God's Skin," "Close To You," "Raindrops Keep Falling and "Sunrise, Sunset."

The guests were then invited to the social room where lovely refreshments of cookies, mints punch and coffee were served from a beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

The June meeting will be held 7:30 p.m. June 9 with Mrs. Festus Hill, Mrs. Helen Phillips and Mrs. Paul Moore as hostesses.

By Abigail Van Buren

She Can't Lick Stamp Problem

DEAR ABBY: I see a lot of your readers are "sports widows." That's rough. But until a woman has become a "stamp widow" she doesn't know what misery is. Sports are seasonal and there is a limit to the amount of time and money they take, but a stamp collector is something else.

We have stamp albums, stamp literature and stamp hinges all over the place. Also, cigar boxes filled with loose stamps. He corresponds with stamp-collecting pen pals all over the world, and he reads their boring letters to me.

I didn't know he was a stamp collector until after I married him. Then it turns out he's been collecting stamps since he was 8 years old. Not only does he collect stamps, he buys collections from other collectors. It's like a disease. How can I stamp out stamps?

STAMPEDED

DEAR STAMPEDED: Why try to stamp out stamps? It's the only hobby you can lick!

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if the day before your birthday your husband said to you, "Honey, do me a favor and go buy yourself a birthday gift and a card to go with it. I'll give you the money for it."

I told him I really didn't need anything, so I said, "Why don't you just pick up some roses for me?" Then he said, "Aw, heck, they don't last, and you know the price of roses nowadays."

So, Abby, I didn't buy myself anything, and he didn't get me anything either. And to top it off, he didn't even wish me a happy birthday. So what would you do next birthday?

PUZZLED BUT HAPPY

DEAR PUZZLED: I am glad you are also "Happy," because there is no way of injecting "sentiment" into a spouse who is utterly devoid of it. You could try to make him understand how delighted you'd be with just a card of his own choosing, but if you have to hit him over the head to remind him to "remember" you forget it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband made sure I didn't miss your column about the wife who is constantly mistaken for hubby's mother. That's our situation.

I wish I could get together with the woman who wrote it. We could have a good cry together. I, too, am fat and gray. I have had 10 children in 14 years so it's no wonder I have aged so. My husband never believed in birth control. He also never believed in giving me any help once they were brought into the world. He thinks that because he supports them (financially) his duty is done.

I have known for a long time that my husband is ashamed of the way I look. We hardly ever socialize. I do get an occasional invitation to the movies, but if they ever devise a way of showing movies with the

NEW YORK (AP) — The flower that bloomed at Woodstock has wilted.

Two years ago, 400,000 rock fans jammed an Upstate New York alfalfa field in a massive demonstration of love and peace as a way of life.

But now, disillusionment with the rock scene has spread far and wide. Rock performers have turned money mad. The deaths of some prominent rock stars and the ecology movement's call for purity have turned many young people off drugs, and the music itself is undergoing drastic alterations.

The announcement by rock impresario Bill Graham recently that he would close his two emporia of live music, Fillmore East in New York and Fillmore West in San Francisco, was seen as heralding an end of an era in rock.

house lights on, I'm a dead duck.

The groups who once were willing to brave the rain and mud of Woodstock to play, had turned, Graham said, into highly structured corporations demanding higher and higher payments for their services.

Top bands, like the Jefferson Airplane and Sly and the Family Stone, command high fees as high as $50,000 for a single night's performance, and, Graham charged, income has taken a precedence over music.

Woodstock was in many ways the beginning of an era, an assertion by American youth that they had their own culture and their own way of celebrating.

Woodstock was the end also, because no matter what its success was, the myth it created could never be matched by the reality of any successor.

The next major festival in Altamont, Calif., was a free concert offered by the Rolling Stones. Members of the Hell's Angeles motorcycle gang were hired to keep the crowd under control and before the evening was over one youth was dead.

While Altamont may have been taken as a warning, the attractions of the outdoor concert especially when compared

Rubber Duckie Joins Concert

BOSTON (AP) — There was something new among the bassoons, French horns, and violins at the Boston Pops concert. It was the rubber duckie.

During his 28 years with the Pops, Charley Smith has played car horns, bird whistles and rifles, but this was his first time on the 98-cent bath toy.

"There's really nothing to it if you can keep time," he said, squawking the duck.

The occasion was a Pops medley at Monday night's concert of Sesame Street songs, among them "Rubber Duckie," "Everybody Wash Your Everything" and other favorites from the children's television series.

to the smaller incomes provided by indoor performances, were too obvious to the big time artist.

"He'd rather play the one concert with 20,000 people and spend the other three days resting on his yacht," Graham complained.

The year of the rock fest was 1970:

Love Valley, Goose Lake, Strawberry Fields, Powder Fields, Powder Ridge, Buffalo Party Convention and Roast, Beaufort Water Festival....

However, only 18 of 48 major festivals scheduled came off, according to Jon Northland, assistant editor of the rock weekly, Rolling Stone.

"The major reason is political," he said. "The day after the festival is announced, the city council and police come up with some emergency ordinance that makes it impossible to hold it."

Promoters also discovered that there were financial problems. The performers wanted more. Radical groups asked for a cut. The fans felt they were being exploited and that music should be free.

Don Friedman watched his Randall's Island Festival in New York City crumble under pressure from radicals until the doors were finally thrown open to the public.

"The love, peace thing of Woodstock has gone out," Friedman said. "It's been replaced by anarchy, complete total anarchy."

The only type of site left in which crowds can be controlled are the sports arenas, like Madison Square Garden.

Promoters can jam 20,000 youths into the Garden, and because of this, groups prefer to play there, despite the poor amplification.

In the last year or so, major upheavals wracked the rock music scene. The Beatles, who dominated the music of the 1960s split and squabbled over their fortune.

Within days of each other, singer Janis Joplin and guitarist Jimi Hendrix died, of apparent drug overdoses.

In the meantime, a new musical style emerged to challenge rock. The ear-splitting roar of 10,000 watts of amplification have begun to give way to the soft strum of nylon guitar strings.

"Country-style" bands like The Band, soft-voice singers like James Taylor, vocal groups like Crosby Stills Nash and Young have come on the scene.

Derby News

Mrs. Georgia Sweet — 869-2462

Westfall's seventh annual Commencement exercise will be held 7 p.m. May 30. Commencement this year will be held on the football field, weather permitting. Baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Speaking for the Commencement will be Sally Minor, Denise Morrison, and Larry Kempton.

Westfall Junior-Senior Banquet is scheduled for May 22 at the school, followed by the Junior-Senior Prom, after which guests will attend a party from 1-4 a.m. at Stardust Lanes, Grove City.

On Saturday April 24th, the Future Farmers of America Convention was held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds in the Lausche Building. Attending the four sessions were voting delegates Dan Lett and Gary Angles along with Eugene Grigsby, band member. Included in the four sessions were reports from each officer during the business session speeches and reports, introductions and awards, and finally, announcements of new officers and adjournments.

The Central Ohio Regional Science Fair, sponsored by the Battelle Memorial Institute and Otterbein College was held at Otterbein. Westfall Representatives were Phil Karn and Scott Van Horn. The students were competing for 16 different awards with the two top winners receiving an all expense paid trip to the International Science Fair, Kansas City, Mo. Scott's project was "Ocean Engineering" and Phil's was "The Modern Beef Machine."

Friends and former classmates of Connie Sue Bannan have been happy to hear that she has been initiated into the Alpha Gamma Delta, international fraternity for college and university women, Eastern Kentucky University. After the initiation, Connie received the "best pledge award" at the banquet which followed.

Twenty-five Westfall Seniors who recently presented the play "The Matchmaker" are happy to report that their play was a huge success, and comments from Derby residents who attended bear this out, for they enjoyed it immensely.

Two juniors and two seniors were recently invited to attend three meetings of the Rotary Club. The seniors were Randy Alkire and Greg Rickabaugh, the juniors, Mike Hegarty and John Vallone. They attended the meetings, listened to speeches and observing, themselves gave speeches at the second meeting and receiving a "Youth Merit Award" at a luncheon following the last meeting.

There is a new 4-H Club at Clarks Lake. On April 21, the first meeting of the Clark's Lake Explorers was held with 16 members present. Greg Smith was elected president; Carey Puckett vice president; Dale Ruoff, secretary; Skip Brown, treasurer; Jim Six, health and safety; Randy Adams, news reporter; Mr. Casey Neal is group adviser. The group plans a hike in the woods for the purpose of learning the names of trees, birds and flowers.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Tom Walters and her family on the loss of her sister Miss Betty Parrett who passed away on Saturday, and to her parents, sisters, and brother.

Birthday greetings to Linda Johnson, Steve Dawson, Lisa Clark, Ruth Thelma White, May 9; Dora Phillips Maxine Eccard, Vic Eccard, Kit Barry, Geraldine McPherson, May 11; Mary Ellen Shannon, Angela McPherson, and Tod Hoop, May 12; Martha Jo Liff, May 14, Grace Minshall and Nancy Ruff, May 15. Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wrightsel on May 11.

Miss Grace Minshall spent the past weekend with her cousin, Mrs. Goldie Horton of Columbus. Mrs. Horton has been quite ill for the past four weeks.

The Rev. Feazel and Tom Cochran went to Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., this past month where they shared with prospective teachers the teaching positions available in the Westfall School District. They report at least eight will make application for these positions.

Rev. and Mrs. Feazel visited Lexington, Ky. to attend the Central Kentucky Billy Graham Crusade. Rev. Feazel has been accepted to the Billy Graham School of Evangelism which will be held the second week of June in Chicago, Ill.

Steve Cochran has been selected as a member of the and high schools in Ohio to share their Christian faith and present Christian folk concerts.

The Southwest Nazarene softball team opened their season with a 21-8 loss to West Board Nazarene. Games are played at 5 p.m. at Greenlawn fields on Saturdays. A good effort was put forth by some of our younger Clark Lakers John Pell, Steve Cochran, Randy Puckett, Randy Hildenbrand, Jeff Davis, Joe Jude, Glenn Baure. The young at heart group played well to Tom Cochran, Terry Davis, Bill Kennard, and the Rev. Feazel. Westfall Junior-Senior Banquet is scheduled for May 22 at the school, followed by the Junior-Senior Prom, after which guests will attend a party from 1-4 a.m. at Stardust Lanes, Grove City.

On Saturday April 24th, the Future Farmers of America Convention was held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds in the Lausche Building. Attending the four sessions were voting delegates Dan Lett and Gary Angles along with Eugene Grigsby, band member. Included in the four sessions were reports from each officer during the business session speeches and reports, introductions and awards, and finally, announcements of new officers and adjournments.

The Central Ohio Regional Science Fair, sponsored by the Battelle Memorial Institute and Otterbein College was held at Otterbein. Westfall Representatives were Phil Karn and Scott Van Horn. The students were competing for 16 different awards with the two top winners receiving an all expense paid trip to the International Science Fair, Kansas City, Mo. Scott's project was "Ocean Engineering" and Phil's was "The Modern Beef Machine."

Friends and former classmates of Connie Sue Bathan will be happy to hear that she has been initiated into the Alpha Gamma Delta, international fraternity for college and university women, Eastern Kentucky University. After the initiation, Connie received the "best pledge award" at the banquet which followed.

Twenty-five Westfall Seniors who recently presented the play "The Matchmaker" are happy to report that their play was a huge success, and comments from Derby residents who attended bear this out, for they enjoyed it immensely.

Two juniors and two seniors were recently invited to attend three meetings of the Rotary Club. The seniors were Randy Alkire and Greg Rickabaugh, the juniors, Mike Hegarty and John Vallone. They attended the meetings, listened to speeches and observing, themselves gave speeches at the second meeting and receiving a "Youth Merit Award" at a luncheon following the last meeting.

There is a new 4-H Club at Clarks Lake. On April 21, the first meeting of the Clark's Lake Explorers was held with 16 members present. Greg Smith was elected president; Carey Puckett vice president; Dale Ruoff, secretary; Skip Brown, treasurer; Jim Six, health and safety; Randy Adams, news reporter; Mr. Casey Neal is group adviser. The group plans a hike in the woods for the purpose of learning the names of trees, birds and flowers.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Tom Walters and her family on the loss of her sister Miss Betty Parrett who passed away on Saturday, and to her parents, sisters, and brother.

Birthday greetings to Linda Johnson, Steve Dawson, Lisa Clark, Ruth Thelma White, May 9; Dora Phillips Maxine Eccard, Vic Eccard, Kit Barry, Geraldine McPherson, May 11; Mary Ellen Shannon, Angela McPherson, and Tod Hoop, May 12; Martha Jo Liff, May 14, Grace Minshall and Nancy Ruff, May 15; Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wrightsel on May 11.

The Rev. Feazel and Tom Cochran went to Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., this past month where they shared with prospective teachers the teaching positions available in the Westfall School District. They report at least eight will make application for these positions.

Rev. and Mrs. Feazel visited Lexington, Ky. to attend the Central Kentucky Billy Graham Crusade. Rev. Feazel has been accepted to the Billy Graham School of Evangelism which will be held the second week of June in Chicago, Ill.

Steve Cochran has been selected as a member of the

McCovey's Bat Crushes Reds

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of West Coast Willies are off on a whirlwind spree and, for a change, neither one answers to the name Mays.

Willie McCovey, coming on strong after a slow start this season, belted three hits, including his seventh home run, as the San Francisco Giants widened their National League West lead to eight games with a 6-1 triumph over Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Willie Davis, meanwhile, continued his torrid hitting with three singles and a triple, helping the Los Angeles Dodgers whip Atlanta 6-1 to snap a three-game losing string and move into second place behind the runaway Giants.

Davis has banged out 11 hits in his last 13 trips to the plate, hiking his batting average to .395. McCovey has gone 9-for-12 in his last four starts, bringing his average up to .311.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets battered Houston 8-1 behind Nolan Ryan's three-hitter and Dave Marshall's grand slam homer; two homers by Joe Torre paced St. Louis to a 10-4 romp over Montreal; Pittsburgh drubbed San Diego 10-4 with Manny Sanguillen stroking four hits and the Chicago Cubs clubbed Philadelphia 6-2.

McCovey put the wraps on the Giants' 24th victory in 33 games with a two-run homer in the third inning after Mays, a .375 hitter, drew a walk from Jim Merritt.

Bobby Bonds' eighth homer, singles by Chris Speier, McCovey and Ken Henderson and another homer by Dick Dietz had given the division leaders a 4-0 first inning jump. Gaylord Perry, 4-1, checked the reeling Reds on six hits. Merritt, a 20-game winner last year, absorbed his fourth setback in as many decisions.

Davis punched a two-out single in the first inning before Richie Allen walked and Wes Parker drilled a two-run double, sending the Dodgers ahead to stay at Los Angeles.

After Bill Bucner's three-run homer in the fourth chased Braves' starter Jim Nash, Davis tagged reliever Pat Jarvis for a triple and scored on a single by Allen.

Southpaw Claude Osteen tamed Atlanta on six hits for a 4-3 season mark as the Dodgers moved percentage points ahead of the Braves into second place in the West.

Ryan walked seven Houston batters and hit another, but pitched hitless ball until the fifth inning, struck out eight and wound up, breezing to his fourth victory without a loss.

The Mets, who have won four in a row for a one-game edge over second-place Pittsburgh in the East, scored three runs off Larry Dierker in the third and knocked out the Houston ace in the sixth before Marshall rocked reliever George Culver for his bases-loaded homer.

Ryan has issued 24 walks—but has yielded just 12 hits.

Vikings Edge Olentangy In Metro Tilt, 3-2

Sam Wilson turned in a fine mound performance and Jeff Elman rapped the long ball to lead Teays Valley to a 3-2 win over Olentangy Tuesday in a Metropolitan League clash on the Vikings' home grounds.

Wilson limited the Braves to five hits, walked three and fanned 11 before giving way to Jerry Sabine with two out in the seventh inning.

Elman smashed Olentangy pitching for a triple and double and scored two runs for the Blue and Gold.

Cowboys May Lose Thomas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gil Brandt, who signed unhappy Dallas Cowboy running back Duane Thomas to a contract, said Tuesday he's surprised the National Football League's rookie of the year wants to retire.

Brandt, a club vice president, said, "Duane is a tremendous football player and a fine man. I'm just sorry he feels the way he does."

Thomas is in Los Angeles and said he has no plans to return here or talk with Cowboy officials. The former West Texas State star is unhappy with his three-year contract. He said it calls for him to make $500 less this year than he did last.

Thomas also said he had to haggle with Cowboy officials to get his rookie of the year bonus money.

He told the Dallas Morning News Tuesday that "not all of my problems derive from money. Another thing that concerned me was that they (The Cowboys) have no emotion about a player's well being. They look at you not as a person, but as a specimen."

In San Antonio, player-backfield coach Danny Reeves said Tuesday night, "I'm positive the Cowboy organization will be very fair with Duane and will see to it that Duane's back with the Cowboys next year."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Professional hockey will return to Columbus next season after a one-year absence.

A franchise to operate an international Hockey League club here was purchased Tuesday by Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Seals National Hockey League team.

IHL Commissioner Bill Beagan announced the action following a meeting of the league's board of governors in Detroit.

Finley, who hadn't scored a victory in the first five stops on the tour, registered two decisions and a second in four starts. Peter Wolfenden and Billy Haughton accounted for the other victories.

Area Bowlers On TV

Edna and Bill Arnett of Kingston will appear noon Sunday on the WTVN-TV Scotch Doubles bowling show.

They rolled 610 at Northern Lights Bowling Lanes in Columbus to qualify for a spot on the program.

Cincinnati Reds Still Seek Combination For Victories

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—As if the remainder of the National League West wasn't enough to worry about, normally slow-starting Willie McCovey has become a major factor in the San Francisco Giants' 1971 pennant push.

McCovey, batting .172 only 17 games ago, Tuesday night cracked three hits, including a two-run homer, to power the torrid Giants to a 6-1 rout of the Cincinnati Reds behind Gaylord Perry's six-hit pitching.

Ron Bryant, 2-1, takes the

Hennigan Gives Tribe 7-5 Victory

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Phil Hennigan, who pitched the Cleveland Indians to victory over the Oakland Athletics in relief Tuesday night says he is getting "more velocity" on his pitches this season.

Manager Alvin Dark described Hennigan's performance in the 7-5 victory as "five innings of as fine a job of relief pitching as you'll see."

Hennigan, who came up from Wichita last weekend, replaced starter Steve Dunning after the A's had tied the score at 5-5 with four runs in the fifth inning with none out.

The Indians had wasted Dunning's grand slam homer while blowing a 5-0 lead and then bounced back to snap Oakland's three-game winning string.

Hennigan, a stocky right-hander, blanked the Athletics on two hits in the last five innings and struck out three batters while walking only one.

"I'm just throwing the ball harder, he said after the game. "I don't know why or what it is, but I'm getting more velocity on my pitches."

"I'm just trying to throw hard and not trying to spot my pitches like I was before. I was spot pitching too much last year and holding back too much."

Braves Surprise Westfall, 7-2

Logan Elm surprised Westfall 7-2 Tuesday in Class A baseball tournament action on the Braves' diamond.

Gary Francis was the winning pitcher. Going the route, he walked two, fanned five and scattered seven hits. In addition he was two for three at the plate, stroking a first inning single and a second inning 3-run homer.

Ted Musselman was the losing hurler and except for two homerun pitches, turned in a fine mound performance. He walked two, whiffed seven and allowed only five hits.

The Braves were able to bunch their hits. In the bottom of the first inning, Steve Curtis walked. Singles by Francis and Wirtie Teets plated Curtis and then Rick Blankenship belted a 3-run roundtrip blow.

WESTFALL had scored on three consecutive singles in the first by Scott Riddle, Joe Clem and Randy Alkire.

The other three runs for the Braves came in the top of the second when Mike Holbrook reached base on a single, Curtis walked again and Francis connected for a homerun.

In the third singles by Riddle and Alkire accounted for Westfall's other run. The two pitchers hurled shutout ball for the rest of the game. Both teams played an errorless game.

Tonight Logan Elm hosts Bishop Flaget. The Braves have a 7-8 record for the season. Westfall is 11-6-1 for the season.

SPORTS Highlights

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Professional Bowlers Association has fined Nelson Burton Jr., PBA Bowler of the Year in 1970, and Dick Weber, winner of 22 PBA tournaments, for their conduct during a tournament game last month.

PBA Executive Secretary Joe Antonora said Tuesday the association's tournament committee decided last week to fine the two St. Louis bowlers an undisclosed sum for their conduct during the final match play game in the tournament of Champions here April 2.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The field for Saturday's $150,000 Preakness, once considered likely to be bulked enough for two divisions, could dwindle to a mere 10 today.

Leematt was withdrawn from the Triple Crown race Tuesday, reducing the probable field to 11, and a decision was expected today on Impetuosity.

Owner C. Oliver Goldsmith yanked Leematt from consideration Tuesday after the colt worked a mile in 1:41.15 from a starting gate.

FH Wins Metro League Meet, Vikings Fourth

Franklin Heights tallied 74 points and successfully defended its Metropolitan League track title Tuesday in a meet held on the Falcons oval.

West Jefferson was second with 45, Dublin had 35, Teays Valley was fourth with 32, Olentangy had 20 and Hamilton Township garnered nine.

Wilson of Franklin Heights was a triple winner with first spots in the 440 run, 220-yard dash and the long jump.

Bob Smith was the lone Viking winner with a time of 10:24.5 in the two-mile run.

Vikings Edge Olentangy In Metro Tilt, 3-2

Sam Wilson turned in a fine mound performance and Jeff Ehman rapped the long ball to lead Teays Valley to a 3-2 win over Olentangy Tuesday in a Metropolitan League clash on the Vikings' home grounds.

Wilson limited the Braves to five hits, walked three and fanned 11 before giving way to Jerry Sabine with two out in the seventh inning.

Ehman smashed Olentangy pitching for a triple and double and scored two runs for the Blue and Gold.

Terry Lambert and Dave Chaffin both slashed one batters to account for the Vikings' four hits.

HOOPER went all the way for the Braves, giving up three walks and striking out four.

Olentangy tallied single runs in the first frame and the seventh while the Vikings garnered single runs in the first, second and fifth innings.

The Blue and Gold picked up the winning tally in the fifth when Ehman doubled and scored on a single by Lambert.

Teays Valley is now 9-15 for the season, 4-3 in league play and will host Canal Winchester tonight.

McCovey's Bat Crushes Reds

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of West Coast Willies are off on a whirlwind spree and, for a change, neither one answers to the name Mays.

Willie McCovey, coming on strong after a slow start this season, belted three hits, including his seventh home run, as the San Francisco Giants widened their National League West lead to eight games with a 6-1 triumph over Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Willie Davis, meanwhile, continued his torrid hitting with three singles and a triple, helping the Los Angeles Dodgers whip Atlanta 6-1 to snap a three-game losing string and move into second place behind the runaway Giants.

Davis has banged out 11 hits in his last 13 trips to the plate, hiking his batting average to .395. McCovey has gone 9-for-12 in his last four starts, bringing his average up to .311.

Elsewhere in the NL, the New York Mets battered Houston 8-1 behind Nolan Ryan's three-hitter and Dave Marshall's grand slam homer; two homers by Joe Torre paced St. Louis to a 10-4 romp over Montreal; Pittsburgh drubbed San Diego 10-4 with Manny Sanguillen stroking four hits and the Chicago Cubs clubbed Philadelphia 6-2.

McCovey put the wraps on the Giants' 24th victory in 33 games with a two-run homer in the third inning after Mays, a .375 hitter, drew a walk from Jim Merritt.

Bobby Bonds' eighth homer, singles by Chris Speier, McCovey and Ken Henderson and another homer by Dick Dietz had given the division leaders a 4-0 first inning jump.

Gaylord Perry, 4-1, checked the reeling Reds on six hits. Merritt, a 20-game winner last year, absorbed his fourth setback in as many decisions.

Davis punched a two-out single in the first inning before Richie Allen walked and Wes Parker drilled a two-run double, sending the Dodgers ahead to stay at Los Angeles.

After Bill Buccner's three-run homer in the fourth chased Braves' starter Jim Nash, Davis tagged reliever Pat Jarvis for a triple and scored on a single by Allen.

Southpaw Claude Osteen tamed Atlanta on six hits for a 4-3 season mark as the Dodgers moved percentage points ahead of the Braves into second place in the west.

Ryan walked seven Houston batters and hit another, but pitched hitless ball until the fifth inning, struck out eighth and wound up, breezing to his fourth victory without a loss.

The Mets, who have won four in a row for a one-game edge over second-place Pittsburgh in the East, scored three runs off Larry Dierker in the third and knocked out the Houston ace in the sixth before Marshall rocked reliever George Culver for his bases-loaded homer.

Ryan has issued 24 walks—but has yielded just 12 hits

Herve Filion Wins Transcontinental

HAZEL PARK Mich. (AP) —

Herve Filion of Canada, the defending titleholder in The Harness Tracks of America's Second Annual World Driving Championship, dominated the sixth leg of the Transcontinental series before 6,754 fans Tuesday night at the Hazel Park Harness Raceway.

Filion, who hadn't scored a victory in the first five stops on the tour, registered two decisions and a second in four starts. Peter Wolfenden and Billy Haughton accounted for the other victories.

Area Bowlers On TV

while fanning 23—in 25 innings of work this season.

Torre broke a 3-3 tie at Montreal with a two-run homer in the fifth inning and walloped his sixth homer of the year—another two-run shot—in the ninth. Jose Cardenal and Dick Schofield also homered for the Cards.

Sanguillen drove in two runs for the Pirates, who overcame a 2-1 fifth inning deficit and then poured it on against the Padres. Roberto Clemente slammed a double and his first homer of the season, delivering three runs, and Gene Clines sent Pittsburgh in front with a two-run triple in the fifth.

Chicago's Bill Hands, backed by two-run homers off the bats of Johnny Callison, Billy Williams and Ron Santo, held Philadelphia hitless after the third inning, finishing with a five-hitter to square his record at 4-4.

Williams' homer off Rick Wise and Santo's blast off reliever Woody Fryman shot the Cubs out of reach in the third.

Cowboys May Lose Thomas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gil

Brandt, who signed unhappy Dallas Cowboy running back Duane Thomas to a contract, said Tuesday he's surprised the National Football League's rookie of the year wants to retire.

Brandt, a club vice president, said, "Duane is a tremendous football player and a fine man. I'm just sorry he feels the way he does."

Thomas is in Los Angeles and said he has no plans to return here or talk with Cowboy officials. The former West Texas State star is unhappy with his three-year contract. He said it calls for him to make $500 less this year than he did last.

Thomas also said he had to haggle with Cowboy officials to get his rookie of the year bonus money.

He told the Dallas Morning News Tuesday that "not all of my problems derive from money. Another thing that concerned me was that they (the Cowboys) have no emotion about a player's well being. They look at you not as a person, but as a specimen."

In San Antonio, player-backfield coach Danny Reeves said Tuesday night, "I'm positive the Cowboy organization will be very fair with Duane and will see to it that Duane's back with the Cowboys next year."

Columbus To See

Return Of Hockey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Professional hockey will return to Columbus next season after a one-year absence.

A franchise to operate an international Hockey League club here was purchased Tuesday by Charles O. Finley, owner of the Oakland Seals National Hockey League team.

IHL Commissioner Bill Beagan announced the action following a meeting of the league's board of governors in Detroit.

Cincinnati Reds Still Seek Combination For Victories

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—As if the remainder of the National League West hasn't enough to worry about, normally slow-starting Willie McCovey has become a major factor in the San Francisco Giants' 1971 pennant push.

McCovey, batting .172 only 17 games ago, Tuesday night cracked three hits, including a two-run homer, to power the torrid Giants to a 6-1 rout of the Cincinnati Reds behind Gaylord Perry's six-hit pitching.

Ron Bryant, 2-1, takes the mound for San Francisco tonight against Don Gullett, 3-1, in the series finale.

McCovey's outburst lifted him above .300 for the first time this season. The slugging first-baseman is now batting .311, including a sizzling .378 for the month of May.

"I feel real strong now," says McCovey. "Part of the reason is that I've sort of gotten on a health foods kick over the winter."

"I'll still eat my steaks, but I also drink a lot of those health juices and have stopped eating bread," he explains. "As a result, I reported to spring training without a weight problem."

McCovey's homer, following a walk to Willie Mays, capped the scoring off loser Jim Merritt, 0-4, in the third inning. Homers by Bobby Bonds and Dick Dietz highlighted a four-run rally in the first.

"Those four runs felt pretty good," says Perry, who posted his first victory since April 17 and boosted his record to 4-1. "When you have a big lead, you can make a team hit your pitch more often."

Both Perry and Manager Charlie Fox suggest the slumping Reds may be anxious at the plate, adding to their injury problems in an 11-19 season. Cincinnati is 11 1/2 games behind the Giants, who lead the Dodgers and Braves by eight games.

"When you're not hitting, you sometimes start chasing bad balls," offers Fox. "But you also have to credit Juan (Marichal), and Perry for pitching great games the last two days."

NL Most Valuable Player John Bench epitomizes the Reds' frustration, going 0-for-3 against the two star right-handers and dropping his average to .264.

"I'm just trying to throw hard and not trying to spot my pitches like I was before. I was spot pitching too much last year and holding back too much."

Boston Defeats Minnesota, 5-4

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins brought home the bacon Tuesday night but the Boston Red Sox bullpen took the cake and left the governor of Iowa with egg on his face.

Lee provided Boston's daily relief with four hitless innings to preserve one of Gary Peters' rare victories over Minnesota 5-4.

It was Iowa Night in Minnesota and Gov. Robert Ray brought along a pig to present to the first Twin hitting a home run. Peters and Lee took care to see that no one did, though, and the porker went instead to Cesar Tovar, who got Minnesota's first hit.

The triumph was Boston's 14th in the last 17 games and kept the Red Sox 2 1/2 games in front of Baltimore in the American League East. Over that stretch, the once futile Sox bullpen has compiled a 6-0 record with 10 saves and a composite 1.20 earned run average.

Elsewhere, the Orioles edged Kansas City 5-4 in 10 innings.

Cleveland topped Oakland 7-5 and California banked Detroit 5-0. New York at Milwaukee and Washington at Chicago were rained out.

The big relief work for Boston has been done by Lee, Ken Tatum and Sparky Lyle, with assists from Ken Brett, Bob Belin and Cal Koonce.

Peters, who went into the game with a 3-16 career record against the Twins, reached the point of no return in the sixth inning, but still picked up the win.

He had a 5-2 lead on two-run homers by Duane Josephson and Carl Yastrzemski but a walk and two singles by Leo Cardenas and Rick Renick accounted for one run and finished Peters. Lee allowed George Mitterwald's sacrifice fly and then slammed the door.

Merv Rettenmund, drove in a run with a fifth-inning single, smashed his fourth hit of the game in the 10th to end Baltimore's three-game losing streak. Brooks Robinson and Dave Johnson drew walks off Ted Abernathy and Rettenmund then lashed a single off the glove of shortstop Freddie Patek.

The Royals had tied the game with two out in the ninth on Joe Keough's double and a triple by Amos Otis.

Solo homers by Ken Berry and Ken McMullen backed Clyde Wright's eight-hit pitching as the Angels whipped the Tigers. McMullen also scored on a single by Jerry Moses while Berry carried another run across on Sandy Alomar's single.

Cleveland surged to a 5-0 lead on pitcher Steve Dunning's grand slam, his first major league homer, but the young hurler couldn't hold it. Oakland caught up with four runs in the fifth. Rick Monday's homer accounting for the last three.

Phil Hennigan, just back from the minors, took over at that point and banked the A's the rest of the way on two hits. Vada Pinson's fifth-inning single, an infield out and Roy Foster's double snapped the deadlock and the Indians added a run an inning later on singles, by Jack Heidemann and Ted Uhlaender around Hennigan's sacrifice.

Battle Of Superstars Seen In NBA-ABA Cage Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — "This 'Super Game,'" superstar Oscar Robertson said, "will show that the two pro leagues can play against each other at the highest competitive level without an illegal merger."

The game pits all stars from the warring National Basketball Association and American Basketball Association May 28 in the Houston Astrodome.

By agreeing to the first meeting between the two leagues, the NBA Players Association defied the league owners who barred such a game until a formal merger occurs.

The players' group opposes any merger and has a court injunction now in effect to bar one. Just last week the owners of both leagues agreed to seek congressional legislation to clear the way for it.

Asked whether the owners approved of the game, Robertson a star guard for the NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks and president of the players association, snapped: "It doesn't matter whether they approve or not!"

He said that by refusing to present such a game without a merger "the owners' sole motivation becomes clear—money. "What should be of interest is the fan and the quality of product he sees."

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy refused to say what action the league might take to halt the contest but ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said his league would "take steps to stop our players from participating if it is decided the game would be detrimental to the league—which we have not."

"A player's contract requires him to get permission from his team for any such game," Dolph added.

But Arlen Preblud, attorney for the ABA Players Association, insisted: "It is not the intention of the ABA players to play this in defiance of our owners, and it has nothing to do with the merger. The ABA players are merely playing a game with the NBA players for the Whitney Young Foundation."

The net game receipts from the game will go to the newly created foundation which directs funds to programs that prepare ghetto youngsters for college.

Canadiens Even Series For Trophy

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens have righted themselves and just might be in position to go on to capture the Stanley Cup, the trophy which they didn't get a chance to defend last year when they failed to make the playoffs.

The Canadiens, who were down two games to none last week, made it two straight over the Chicago Black Hawks Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory on their home ice.

That evened the best of seven series at two games each with game number five scheduled for Chicago Thursday night and game number six at Montreal Sunday in a nationally-televised matinee.

"The Canadiens deserved that victory," said Hawk coach Billy Reay. "They outplayed us except for the second period where we made a couple of mistakes."

"We always know what we're up against when we come here to play because they are so awful tough at home."

"Right now it becomes a best of three series," continued Reay, "and the next game is the most crucial in the series for both teams."

The thing the Hawks have going for them is the home ice advantage since game five and seven, if necessary, will be played in Chicago.

Houston Golf Tournament 'Closed'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — It never was listed as an open, but the Houston Champions Invitational golf tournament rapidly is becoming a closed event.

The golf course was closed to practice Tuesday because of thunderstorms and heavy rain.

And, for the first time in many, many years at a professional tournament, the player's locker room was closed to the working press.

The locker room was so closed, in fact, that even field staff members of the PGA's Tournament Players Division were excluded.

"It's the first time we've really had the opportunity, because of the layout here, to have a little experiment," said Ed Griffiths, tournament supervisor for the TPD and the man in charge of this $125,000 event.

Griffiths gave the order to close the locker room, said he was instructed to do so, but declined to say who told him to do it.

Everyone else claimed ignorance.

Bob Rule, executive secretary of the Houston Golf Association, said he knew nothing about it until Monday and swore that neither the PGA nor Champions club had anything to do with it.

ABA Deadlock To Be Broken In Tilt Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars Coach Bill Sharman has concentrated his team's efforts in two areas for tonight's battle with the Kentucky Colonels to break a 2-2 tie in the American Basketball Association championship playoffs.

"We have to play defense and not get scattered around like we did Saturday, and we will have to rebound better," Sharman declared.

The Stars were heavily out-rebounded in losing the last two games of the series at Louisville. Sharman says he feels that was partly due to Zelmo Beatty's early foul trouble and Red Robbins being sick.

Sharman said he didn't think Kentucky played its best at Louisville.

Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey will start the same five players that started the first four games of the series. Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier will be the guards with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Dan Issel at center.

The Utah Starters are a little less definite. Beatty is healthy, but has gotten into foul trouble early in the last two games. Red Robbins has recovered from a weekend bout with the flu, but isn't expected to be up to par.

Merv Jackson is a doubtful starter at guard with a bad knee. Sharman may have to throw swingman Ron Boone against Dampier. Glen Combs is expected to guard Carrier. Willie Wise has recovered from a bout with the flu enough to do the forward position.

The Royals had tied the game with two out in the ninth on Joe Keough's double and a triple by Amos Otis.

Solo homers by Ken Berry and Ken McMullen backed Clyde Wright's eight-hit pitching as the Angels whipped the Tigers. McMullen also scored on a single by Jerry Moses while Berry carried another run across on Sandy Alomar's single.

Cleveland surged to a 5-0 lead on pitcher Steve Dunning's grand slam, his first major league homer, but the young hurler couldn't hold it. Oakland caught up with four runs in the fifth, Rick Monday's homer accounting for the last three.

Phil Hennigan, just back from the minors, took over at that point and banked the A's the rest of the way on two hits. Vada Pinson's fifth-inning single, an infield out and Roy Foster's double snapped the deadlock and the Indians added a run an inning later on singles, by Jack Heidemann and Ted Uhlenhuth around Hennigan's sacrifice.

Canadiens Even Series For Trophy

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens have righted themselves and just might be in position to go on to capture the Stanley Cup, the trophy which they didn't get a chance to defend last year when they failed to make the playoffs.

The Canadiens, who were down two games to none last week, made it two straight over the Chicago Black Hawks Tuesday night with a 5-2 victory on their home ice.

That evened the best of seven series at two games each with game number five scheduled for Chicago Thursday night and game number six at Montreal Sunday in a nationally televised matinee.

"The Canadiens deserved that victory," said Hawk coach Billy Reay. "They outplayed us except for the second period where we made a couple of mistakes."

"We always know what we're up against when we come here to play because they are so awful tough at home."

"Right now it becomes a best of three series," continued Reay. "and the next game is the most crucial in the series for both teams."

The thing the Hawks have going for them is the home ice advantage since game five and seven, if necessary, will be played in Chicago.

Battle Of Superstars Seen In NBA-ABA Cage Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — "This 'Super Game,'" superstar Oscar Robertson said, "will show that the two pro leagues can play against each other at the highest competitive level without an illegal merger."

The game pits all stars from the warring National Basketball Association and American Basketball Association May 28 in the Houston Astrodome.

By agreeing to the first meeting between the two leagues, the NBA Players Association defied the league owners who barred such a game until a formal merger occurs.

The players' group opposes any merger and has a court injunction now in effect to bar one. Just last week the owners of both leagues agreed to seek congressional legislation to clear the way for it.

Asked whether the owners approved of the game, Robertson a star guard for the NBA champion Milwaukee Bucks and president of the players association, snapped:

"It doesn't matter whether they approve or not!"

He said that by refusing to present such a game without a merger "the owners' sole motivation becomes clear—money. "What should be of interest is the fan and the quality of product he sees."

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy refused to say what action the league might take to halt the contest but ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said his league would "take steps to stop our players from participating if it is decided the game would be detrimental to the league—which we have not."

"A player's contract requires him to get permission from his team for any such game," Dolph added.

But Arlen Prebudd, attorney for the ABA Players Association, insisted:

"It is not the intention of the ABA players to play this in defiance of our owners, and it has nothing to do with the merger. The ABA players are merely playing a game with

ABA Deadlock To Be Broken In Tilt Tonight

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars Coach Bill Sharman has concentrated his team's efforts in two areas for tonight's battle with the Kentucky Colonels to break a 2-2 tie in the American Basketball Association championship playoffs.

"We have to play defense and not get scattered around like we did Saturday, and we will have to rebound better," Sharman declared.

The Stars were heavily out-rebounded in losing the last two games of the series at Louisville. Sharman says he feels that was partly due to Zelmo Beaty's early foul trouble and Red Robbins being sick.

Sharman said he didn't think Kentucky played its best at Louisville.

Kentucky Coach Frank Ramsey will start the same five players that started the first four games of the series. Darel Carrier and Louie Dampier will be the guards with Jim Ligon and Cincy Powell at forwards and Dan Issel at center.

The Utah Stars are a little less definite. Beaty is healthy, but has gotten into foul trouble early in the last two games. Red Robbins has recovered from a weekend bout with the flu, but isn't expected to be up to par.

Merv Jackson is a doubtful starter at guard with a bad knee. Sharman may have to throw swingman Ron Boone against Dampier. Glen Combs is expected to guard Carrier. Willie Wise has recovered from a bout with the flu enough to take the forward position.
